Politicians Wind Up Campaign; Each Side Confident Of Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn Saturday claimed a sharp upward turn in GOP election prospects. But confident - sounding Democrats predicted big gains for their party in the House and Senate.

The clashing reports came as the two parties maneuvered for advantage of this final weekend before the balloting next Tuesday.

An Associated Press survey covering every state pointed to an apparent Democratic victory in the battle for control of Congress. These soundings indicated Democratic pickups in both House and Senate, and probable election of more Democratic governors.

In these last rounds of the 1958 political battle, the fusillades from both sides had a familiar ring. The Republicans hammered at their peace and prosperity theme, and threw the left wing charge at the Democrats.

On the other side, the Democrats complained of a lack of leadership in the Eisenhower administration, and criticized GOP campaign tactics.

But a review of the campaign so far showed no single overriding issue. Many House and Senate races are due to be decided by local issues and personalities.

Alcorn discussed the situation with President Eisenhower at the White House and later told newsmen that Republican chances "appeared to be improving at a very rapid pace."

Alcorn said GOP leaders in 40 states have reported to him that the Democratic campaign passed its peak two or three weeks ago. "The Democrats looked at things in quite a different light."

In St. Louis, former President Harry S. Truman predicted his party will roll up its biggest landslide in any off-year election.

Chicago Negro Admits Killing White Youth, 17

CHICAGO (AP)—A Negro factory worker Saturday admitted the Friday night slaying of a 17-year-old white youth, according to Assistant State's Atty. Robert Scherman.

The youth, Eugene Stanford, was shot to death during an exchange of insults as eight home-bound Negro workers passed a group of seven white youths at a South Side street corner police said.

Louis Shoemate, 41, told police he shot in self defense when Stanford and some of his friends, one armed with a knife, lunged at him after the exchange of remarks.

Three of Stanford's companions claimed the insults to Shoemate and his friends came from a different group of youths at the intersection. Shoemate was arrested at his home after two of his co-workers named him as the slayer. A .25 caliber pistol was found in his home.

Scherman said Shoemate dictated a 25 page confession. He is being held without charge.

In Texas, House Speaker Sam Rayburn forecast the Democrats would swell their majorities in both the House and Senate. He spoke of up to 50 more seats in the House and eight or more to be added in the Senate.

The AP survey indicated the Democrats have a chance of taking 8 to 12 more Senate seats and scoring a net gain of 17 to 40 House seats, perhaps more. The present senate lineup is 42 to 54 in favor of the Democrats. In the House, the Democrats outnumber Republicans 235-200.

As for the governorship situation, this analysis showed the Democrats could capture a net of from one to three more state houses. They now hold governorships in 29 states to 19 for the Republicans.

Wright, Lohman Race Highlights Illinois Election

CHICAGO (AP)—More than three million Illinoisans are expected to vote in Tuesday's election.

No top-bracket offices — such as governor or senator — are at stake. But, with 25 seats to be filled, the state is one of the major sectors in the nationwide battle for control of Congress.

The main statewide race is for state treasurer, a position that could be a stepping stone to bigger and better things for the winner.

Elvis' German Girl Friend Says, He's 'Really Nice'

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—How does it feel to be a date of Pvt. Elvis Presley?

Blonde Margrit Bueglin shrugged her shoulders:

"I've never been a Presley fan until I met Elvis. I found out he is much nicer than he looks on photograph. He is a really nice boy and I like him very much."

But that was as far as she wanted to go in commenting about the rock 'n' roll singer turned soldier who came to Germany only a month ago.

"We met first in Bad Homburg," Margrit said. "I went there with a photographer, the father of my girl friend. I was just curious to see how he'd look like."

How often had they met since? She shrugged her shoulders again.

"Don't know. If Elvis thinks four or five times, (as he said earlier Saturday) he may be right. I think it was not that often."

Dressed in a tight fitting salmon sweater and blue pants, she looked older than her 16 years.

Sixteen? "Yes, and I have to be home by 10 o'clock at night. My people are very strict about that."

Miss Bueglin is a typist in a Frankfurt electrical goods company. She has been taking English lessons since she came back from a seven-month stay with her aunt in Norway last July.

"English is so important," she said. "Elvis won't learn German anyway."

When will she have her next date? She was mum.

One thing seems certain, however: It won't be next Tuesday.

"On Tuesday," Margrit said, "I have school. English lessons."

The Republican entry is Warren Wright of Park Ridge, a silver-haired veteran of the political wars. He's 65 and has held the treasurer's job twice—1941-43 and 1955-57.

Joseph D. Lohman of Chicago is the Democratic contender. He's the sheriff of Cook County. He's 48, once was a member of the University of Chicago faculty and was chairman of the Illinois Parole Board from 1948 to 1953, when Adlai Stevenson was governor.

An exchange of charges between Wright and Lohman quickened interest in the campaign in its closing phase. That flurry, and reticence that involve the court system and the citizens' pocketbooks, may swell the turnout.

Estimates of the number of ballots to be cast ranged up to 3,500,000. The total vote in Illinois has topped three million in off years and four million in presidential elections for the last 20 years.

Voters will have an hour longer than heretofore in which to record their choices. Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. They close at 5 p.m. in past general elections.

The present state treasurer, Elmer Hoffman, is seeking a seat in Congress in the 14th District. Vernon Nickell, superintendent of public instruction, is retiring. His post is sought by a fellow Republican, Gerald W. Smith, school superintendent in suburban Elmwood Park, and Democrat George T. Wilkins of Edwardsville, superintendent of school in Madison County.

The Republicans now occupy all the major state offices. They figure they will maintain their solid hold, although the Democrats don't agree.

Three places on the board of trustees of the University of Illinois will be filled Tuesday. The division now is six Republicans and three Democrats. The three Republicans running for reelection are Park Livingston of LaGrange.

Joliet Boy Scout, 12, Found Shot To Death In Ravine Near Home

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—A 12-year-old Boy Scout who telephoned his mother he would be a little late arriving home from school was found shot to death Saturday in a wooded ravine near his home.

The body of David Benson, only child of Robert and Avace Benson, was discovered at daybreak by a searching party of state troopers and fellow Scouts with whom he had planned to go on a hike Saturday.

The seventh grade pupil had been shot in the head and abdomen with .38 caliber slugs and his neck bore marks indicating he had been strangled with a rope or wire, police said.

Sheriff Roy Doerflinger of Will County said he is convinced the boy was shot somewhere else and the body hauled to the woods and dumped. He said there was too little blood around the body for the wounds that had been inflicted.

Doerflinger admitted in a late afternoon news conference that he was "up against a stone wall" in the investigation. "I am just afraid that this will turn into another Schuessler case," he said, referring to the unsolved murder of three Chicago boys in October 1955.

Strangulation was ruled out as a direct cause of the Benson boy's death.

The body was fully clothed and face down. His zipper bag containing his school books, pen and pencils was found in the ravine, 100 feet away. The boy's pants legs were pulled up and marks on the ground indicated the body had been dragged part way down into the ravine.

An autopsy gave no indication that the boy had been molested sexually.

However, Coroner Willard Blood said he was convinced the boy had been choked into unconsciousness before he was killed with a shot in the head and was dead when the second bullet entered his stomach.

A woman resident of the area told police she heard two shots about 4:30 p.m. Friday. She said she thought nothing of it because hunters frequently shoot at squirrels and other small game in the woods.

Coroner Willard Blood fixed the boy's death at between 5 and 8 p.m. Friday.

Police questioned several teenagers and made an intensive search of the ravine in their hunt for clues. A comb and a compact found in the area were sent to the police crime laboratory.

Term Man's Story Of Killing Hoax; Held For Robbery

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Rolfe Walter Lyons, whose claim of killing a man was termed a hoax by police, Saturday was bound to the Sangamon County Grand Jury.

He was accused of robbing a Springfield savings and loan company. Authorities indicated indictments charging robbery and kidnapping will be sought against him in McLean County.

Lyons Friday told police he killed and buried a man near Decatur Thursday night. C. W. Henry, chief deputy sheriff of Macon area indicated by Lyons was fruitless. Henry termed Lyons' murder story a hoax.

State's Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman of Sangamon County said he will seek the robbery indictment when the grand jury meets Nov. 12.

Lyons, slight 30-year-old who lives in Burkhardt, near Springfield, told state police of the killing shortly after his arrest Friday night at a Springfield road block.

The gunman held up a Bloomington liquor store and forced the store manager to drive him south on Route 66 to Springfield, authorities said.

Wayne Townley of McLean County said he will seek robbery and kidnapping true bills against Lyons at a grand jury session Monday. Deputy Henry said Lyons, a former Deatur taxicab driver, has a record of convictions for grand larceny, assault and battery and misdemeanors.

Lyons was connected with the Thursday savings and loan hold-up by witnesses who viewed him after his arrest Friday night.

Police earlier identified Lyons as James W. Menzies and Thomas J. Miller. He is being held in Sangamon County Jail. Bond was set at $15,000.

They included first demands for the island's surrender, then ordering of a unilateral ceasefire, breakoff of the cease-fire and finally announcement of on-off shelling with an invitation to the Nationalists to bring in supplies during the "off periods."

LOSSES WEIGHT QUICKLY, DOESN'T EVEN DYE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police arrested what they thought was a short fat man Friday night.

Headquarters scales showed Edgar Wilson, 23, of Memphis, Tenn., weighed 210 pounds.

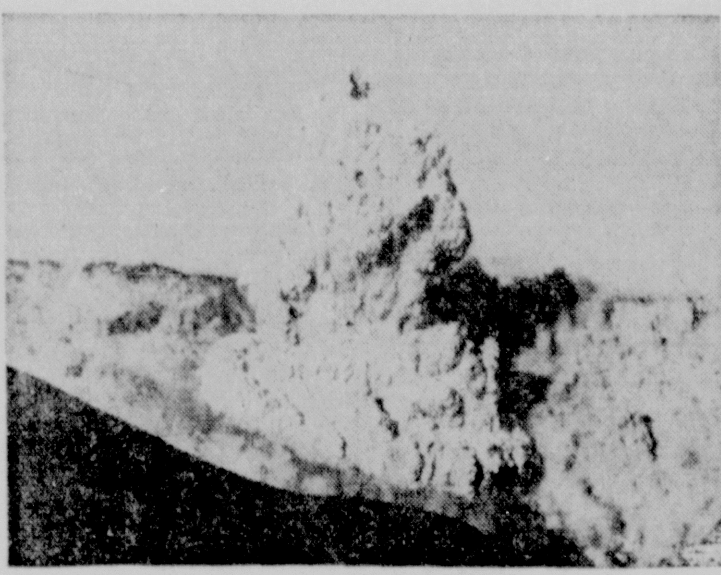

He reduced to 157 pounds in five minutes.

Under a heavy wool topcoat he wore:

Eleven pairs of trousers, 10 jackets and five shirts.

Wilson explained: "They keep me warm."

It was 58 degrees outside. He was booked for vagrancy.

UNDERGROUND A-BLAST TRIGGERED — A churning mass of deadly dust rises from a mesa under which the largest underground atomic detonation ever to be set off in the U.S. was blasted at the Nevada Test Site. About 20,000 tons of TNT, same size as bomb dropped on Hiroshima, the nuclear device was set off in a 2600 foot tunnel, 850 feet underground but broke through surface to form a giant cloud and cause a "minor earthquake" to observers four-and-a-half miles away. ### Warning To Iran Indicates Soviet In Fighting Mood

MOSCOW (AP)—The Kremlin's stern warning to Iran indicates Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his government are in a fighting mood and unwilling to make any compromise with the West.

Both the tone of the note handed the Iranian ambassador Saturday, and the cancellation of President Klement Voroshilov's good will visit to Tehran are regarded in diplomatic circles as fresh examples of the current hard policy.

The Soviet Union accused Iran of preparing to sign a new military treaty with the United States "which directly endangers" Russia's southern frontier. The note added that the Soviets "cannot remain indifferent" to this development.

Under an old treaty with Iran signed after World War I the Soviet Union reserved the right to intervene in Iran if the Russians considered that their southern border was being endangered.

The Soviet Union, the State Department denied a new treaty was being negotiated with Iran. Iran is a member of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, has been getting by one in an arduous schedule of audiences. Among those he saw Saturday were the two U. S. cardinals, Francis J. Spellman of New York and James Francis L. McIntyre of Los Angeles.

The Pope apparently is acquiescing himself, area by area, with specific matters of importance facing the church in an age of political turbulence.

There will be little rest for the new spiritual sovereign of the world's half billion Catholics until next week, after he is crowned in a coronation ceremony lasting four or five hours. The coronation is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The former patriarch of Venice, who will be 77 this month, appeared, however, to be bearing up well under the severe strain of the past few weeks.

Since Pope Pius XII died in the early morning of Oct. 9, the cardinals have had a strenuous time of it. They have expressed fear of the health of a number of others among the cardinals — average age 73. They spent four days and nights behind ancient, chilly stone walls, shrouded by the secrecy of the papal election process.

The coronation Tuesday will be another strain—four or five hours.

Soviet Tells Pasternak To Go Collect Nobel Prize And Then Stay In Capitalist World

MOSCOW (AP)—Boris Pasternak was told Saturday he is free to collect his $41,420 Nobel literature prize in the capitalist world—and to stay there if he wants to.

This was the sharp Kremlin reaction after a personal appeal by Pasternak to Premier Nikita Khrushchev to be allowed to stay in Russia. Pasternak told Khrushchev he may have made mistakes in writing the novel "Doctor Zhivago" and added: "To go beyond the frontier of my motherland is to me equal to death."

Pasternak, whose book criticizes the Russian Communist revolution, already has turned down the Nobel award and indicated he would not attend the award ceremonies in Stockholm Dec. 12.

Despite this criticism of him and his novel has boiled into harsh demands for his expulsion from Russia as a traitor.

In reporting Pasternak's letter, the news agency Tass said in a preamble that no official obstacles block Pasternak from going to Stockholm.

"If Pasternak wishes to leave altogether, the official authorities will not hinder him in that respect in any way," Tass said. "He will be given the chance of departing beyond the frontiers of the U. S. S. R. and of experiencing personally all the 'delights of the capitalist paradise'."

Pasternak's letter was addressed to Khrushchev, the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party and the Soviet government. He referred to the demand of Soviet youth leader V. E. Semichastny last Wednesday, telling him to get out of Russia.

"This is impossible for me," said Pasternak. "I am bound to Russia by birth, life and work. I cannot imagine my fate apart from Russia and outside her."

"Whatever my mistakes and errors may have been, I could not have imagined that I would

Workers Dig On Hoping Some Of 38 Entombed Still Live

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP)—A second miracle came to the shattered Cumberland Coal Mine Saturday. Seven more men were rescued 8½ days after a disastrous upheaval of earth entombed them.

Gaunt, hungry and thirsty, they emerged from their ordeal in astonishingly good condition, as had the 12 miners saved Thursday in the first miracle of the Cumberland.

One even came out joking. Said Maurice Ruddick, 46 and father of 12 when rescue crews reached him in his supposed tomb 13,000 feet from the mine entrance: "Give me a drink of water and I'll sing you a song."

He always sang as he worked and his comrades said he sang plenty during the long hours of darkness, keeping up their spirits.

Yet another, Douglas Jewkes, was jaunty as he was carried to an ambulance past the cheering crowds gathered at the mine head. He sat up, waved, and called out to a friend.

Then, in a bed at the hospital he said: "I feel like a million dollars." Josted Ruddick from a nearby bed: "So do I, but all of mine is spent."

The seven said they had left one dead in their pocket of refuge and they did not see how anyone else among the miners still missing could be alive. Rescuers agreed.

"But there could be another miracle," said Arnie Patterson, public relations chief of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp.

A total of 100 now have been rescued of the 174 men in the mine when disaster struck Oct. 23—81 of them in the first 24 hours.

One more body was brought up during the day and identification was made of the dead miner left behind in the latest rescue operation.

That raised the total known dead to 36. Rescue teams still dug through the rubble deep in the mine looking for the other 38 listed as missing. An indefinite number of them are known to be dead. Removal of bodies was suspended for several hours during concentration of all efforts to rescue the latest survivors.

The seven told the same story as the 12 except that they had hope revived three days ago when they heard the first, distant noises of the rescue crew. The 12 had given up hope last Monday.

The most badly off was Byron Martin, trapped alone in a pocket only six feet square and 75 feet away from the others. He had neither food nor water throughout his entombment.

FOUR CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE THAT RAZES HOME

ARMORE, Okla. (AP)—A desperate mother failed early Saturday to pull one of her three children from the family's burning home and that child and three others burned to death.

Charles Pasley, 32, a dairy worker at Ardmore, told investigators when he awoke about 1:30 a.m. the entire house was ablaze. He said he managed to reach safety through a door, but that his wife had to leap from a window.

Pasley's wife, Dorothy, 30, ran around the one-story frame home and tried to pull one of the children from the fiery structure, but was unsuccessful.

Fire Chief Jim Ozment said when firefighters reached the scene, 7½ miles east of Ardmore on U.S. Highway 70, the burning roof was caving in. The home was razed.

The dead children were Roy Darrell, 11; Donna Gayle, 6; Gayle Ann 4, and Charlene, 8.

Groups Endorse Blue Ballot Amendment

Officials of several Morgan county civic organizations have added their endorsement to the Judicial Amendment to the Illinois Constitution, which will be submitted to vote Tuesday. Their statements follow:

Mrs. Theodore Pierce, president of the Morgan County League of Women Voters:

The League of Women Voters of Morgan County endorses the stand of the Illinois League, which decided in November of 1957 to support the judicial amendment to the Illinois constitution which will be submitted to the people in referendum on November 4.

This decision was reached after reviewing the direction given it by the state convention in the spring of 1957, the statements of legal authorities for and against the article, the recommendations of a special state League committee, and the opinions expressed by local Leagues.

The League believes that the two major provisions—court reorganization and administration—are really great reforms which will give Illinois the framework for a judicial system far superior to what it or any other state now has.

Other substantial gains are the abolition of the fee system; the requirement that all judges must be lawyers who devote full time to their judicial duties and hold no office in a political party or carry on a private law practice.

Mrs. J. P. Boscarte, president of the Jacksonville branch of the American Association of University Women:

Since we established our system of courts in 1848, it has hardly changed. Each one is still a separate entity, responsible for and to its own area only. When essential, other courts have been added, forming a sort of haphazard patchwork, so that frequently even lawyers can't tell where to start a case. Some courts are overloaded and as much as six years behind in hearing cases, while others are far from busy, and there is no provision for transferring judges to busier districts. No one knows how far behind some are. As there is no supervision, judges may work as little or as much as they please.

The proposed amendment would reorganize the courts, giving simplification, unification, and flexibility, with the Supreme Court having administrative authority over all judges must be attorneys, and they can receive no other salaries. Justices of the peace and police magistrates will receive salaries instead of fees, and fines charged in their courts would still go to the local government.

The Jacksonville Branch of the American Association of University Women approves the action of the Illinois State Division in endorsing this amendment.

Ernest Hoagland and Mrs. F. J. Ferry, co-chairmen for the Local Committee for Modern Courts:

Most civic groups support the proposed amendment to the judicial article of our state constitution because they are convinced that it will bring order out of chaos by (1) providing for one trial court in each circuit with branches where needed—branches which will replace the hodgepodge of courts as we now have; and (2) providing for the efficient, business-like administration of our court system under the supervision of the Illinois Supreme Court.

Opponents of the amendment fall into three classes:

(1) perfectionists who will not compromise, even though a democratic government without compromise is an impossible dream;

(2) those who always resist change; and

(3) those who profit by abuses which will be ended by the New Article.

Fire Patrols On Duty In Calhoun, Jersey, Greene

JERSEYVILLE—Fire patrols are again in operation in the woodland areas of Calhoun, Jersey and southwestern Greene counties, according to Walden Lewis of Jerseyville, district forester for this Illinois district which is designated as the Marquette district.

There are three fire fighting patrols, units with seven men doing work in the three counties mentioned. The field units are equipped with radio equipment which keeps the fire fighters in constant touch with the district office in Jerseyville.

When fire danger is imminent in the area, an operator is on duty at the district office in the Odd Fellows building. Mrs. Ramona Gray is employed as radio operator and is on duty when the fire danger exists. When rainy weather exists the special radio operator is not on duty.

District Forester Lewis reported that the fire danger is now mounting each day in keeping with the annual situation which develops with late autumn and its vast amount of falling and rapidly drying leaves, in the woodland vicinities.

Lewis stated that up to Oct. 31 there have been no forest fires thus far during the present autumn. Rainfall has been spaced so that the fire danger until this week has been at a minimum. Absence of rain over a brief period, coupled with sunny days and a rapid accumulation of leaves and debris in woodland areas will bring a fire danger.

The annual appeal is being made to all hunters and others traveling about the woodland areas to exercise every caution in disposing of matches, cigarettes or other potential sources of starting a forest fire.

The employment of patrols in the forest areas proved of great value last year and during the past spring season. Getting to the fire early is important and cooperation is being requested from all residents of the three counties where the woodlands are of great importance.

When your teen-agers' friends come calling let them make their own sandwiches from a tray of sliced bread, soft butter, sliced ham and corned beef, mustard and relishes. Have bowls of carrot sticks and potato chips on hand for munching, soft drinks for a beverage and frosted cupcakes or cookies for dessert.

For Blue Ballot

MISS THELMA BACON

Miss Thelma Bacon President of the Women's Division Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday that the division, following the lead of the local Chamber, has strongly endorsed the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment and has urged all of its members to vote "Yes" on the proposition.

Every one should be interested in promoting the administration of Justice in Illinois, Miss Bacon said, and voting for the Judicial Article Amendment is a positive way of streamlining our court system and making it more efficient.

"It is a direct means of simplifying, modernizing and greatly improving our hodge-podge of courts, bringing all of the courts into one unified system with the Illinois Supreme Court at its head and making possible the complete utilization of judicial manpower." She also pointed out that the Amendment would put an end to the scandalous fee system of paying Justices of the Peace. Those who have been the victims of J.P. speed traps will surely support this proposition.

Valparaiso Guild At Schewe Home

Mrs. Clarence Schewe entertained the Jacksonville, Ill. chapter of the Valparaiso University Guild at its October meeting Wednesday evening, Oct. 29. The president, Mrs. J. William Davidsmeyer, welcomed two new members, Mrs. William Buescher and Mrs. Carl G. Leerkamp, and two guests, Mrs. Gerald Cook and Mrs. Mearl Kern.

Since Valparaiso University is celebrating its centennial year in 1959, it was decided that the Jacksonville chapter will center all activities during the coming year around this centennial celebration. The first project of the Guild in the university's centennial year will be the showing of "This Is the Difference," a color film-strip depicting the "difference" in Lutheran higher education. It was proposed to show this film-strip in the January meetings of a number of societies in Salem Lutheran congregation. It was also proposed to encourage a goal of $1 per communicant member as the congregation's thank offering for Valpo's centennial year.

Beautiful Campus

At the 27th annual National Guild convention held this past July on the university campus, it was decided that the centennial project of the National Guild for the year 1959 will be the raising of funds for landscaping the new university campus. This will include installation of walks, trees and shrubbery, and furnishing planters for all area buildings.

It was announced annual visiting day for high school seniors, interested in Valparaiso University, will be Nov. 8. The seniors will attend the VU-Indiana Central football game as guests of the university, attend a reception and orientation by university officials, watch a special variety show and conclude the day with vespers. All interested seniors are urged to attend.

Of interest to the Guild chapter was the knowledge that construction is moving ahead on the new campus. The Henry Moellering Memorial Library is in the final stages of steel erection; when finished, it will double the present library's volume space to 200,000 and hold 500 readers. Construction of a new four-story men's dorm has also begun.

Final fall on-campus enrollment figures at Valpo show a total of 2,248 students.

Mrs. Schewe's country home and finely appointed table, both appropriately decorated in keeping with the autumn season, added much toward the pleasure of the Guild members and guests during the social hour.

Oil Dealers Of County Protest Tax Increase

Oil dealers strongly opposed any further Illinois gasoline tax increases at a meeting held at the Dunlap hotel.

Bill L. Fanning, Fanning Oil Co., newly elected chairman of The Morgan County Oil Council said, "Once again we are faced with diversion of road tax dollars to subsidize mass transportation in metropolitan centers. The only way to combat such raids on the highway fund is to pass a constitutional amendment earmarking highway funds for highway purposes only. Twenty-seven states have wisely adopted an amendment of this type, as should we."

In addition to opposing State gasoline tax increases, the oil group adopted a program of objectives including: (1) active support for highway safety and (2) to display a reminder sticker calling public attention to existing gasoline taxes.

Commenting the new chairman said, "Unless the consumer is reminded how much taxes add to the cost of gasoline, oil men can hardly expect the credit they deserve for holding down the prices below the level of 30 years ago. It is our plan to see that every gasoline pump carries a small sign telling the customer that he pays a total tax of 8c on each gallon in addition to a general sales tax."

Speaker of the evening was R. H. Laursen, assistant director of the Illinois Oil Council.

Other officers elected were: J. D. Bunting, Morgan County Farm Supply, vice chairman and Mrs. Phyllis Hawks, Hawks Oil Co., secretary.

Sweeping Changes Speed First Class Postal Delivery

Sweeping improvements aimed at providing next day first class letter service for over two and one-half million people throughout the 22,371 square mile St. Louis Metropolitan Area, embracing 39 counties in Illinois and Missouri, were announced yesterday by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Postal patrons in the area were advised that the service improvement program was started on October 27, 1958. Such extensive changes in mail transportation and mail handling are involved that it will require a few weeks for the new service to operate at full efficiency.

Postal patrons will be guaranteed that, barring occasional human errors, letter mails deposited before 5 p.m. on a week-day will be delivered to their destinations within the area on the first delivery trips of the following week-day.

Mail Early

Mailing early in the day thereby giving the Post Office time to sort and transport mail to its destination, is the best way to be sure a letter is delivered next day in the St. Louis Metropolitan Area.

The improvements in the Area's first class letter mail service pattern are the result of intensive study and planning. Personnel from the Chicago Postal Region, the St. Louis Postal Region and 544 Illinois and Missouri post offices in the Area have worked as a team to develop a comprehensive service program and put it into effect. Mr. Summerfield announced.

Within the 39 counties of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area (19 in Illinois and 20 in Missouri) are 544 post offices of various types and sizes. The total pieces of letter mail handled on an average day between the post offices in this Area approximate 12 million pieces. The capital cities of Illinois and Missouri (Springfield, Illinois, and Jefferson City, Missouri) have been linked into this service pattern, thus providing material service improvements to the population of both cities.

Facilities Inadequate

Many of the postal buildings and facilities in this area were built a number of years ago and are no longer adequate to meet efficiently the demands brought by today's growing mail load. The improved delivery of letters throughout the St. Louis Metropolitan Area is being accomplished in spite of the handicaps of inadequate quarters.

The revised service pattern hinges primarily upon, first, the establishment of a special metropolitan mail unit in the St. Louis Post Office Truck Terminal (located in the Federal Building at 12th and Market Streets), which assures the exchange of mail for the entire area by bypassing the St. Louis Main Post Office, and second, the designation of area sectional center offices at Louisiana, St. Charles, Festus, Flat River, Cape Girardeau, Rolla, Jackson and Washington, Missouri, and Jacksonville, Alton, East St. Louis, Centralia and Carbondale, Illinois, which assures mail being processed close to origin, held to the shortest line of travel to address, and bypassing congested large centers. Daily dispatches of mail between county seats and all offices in the county are assured.

Eliminate Back-Tracking

Traditionally mail came into major terminals and then back out again to its destination, often back-tracking and frequently traveling miles and miles to reach a nearby destination. The population growth in the St. Louis Area, along with increased mail volume and traffic problems, too often resulted in missed connections at the terminals, which meant the delivery of mail was delayed. The service has been improved by arranging to have mail travel a minimum distance to reach nearby destinations and bypassing the traditional terminals whenever possible.

Studies of mail volume, combined with geographical and economic aspects, disclosed logical groups of post offices where one office could serve as a "Sectional Center."

Goal Of Future

Postmaster General Summerfield has a goal of next day delivery of mail between any two points in the country. The Postal Service Improvements in the St. Louis Area represents a major step toward achieving that goal by providing overnight delivery for first class mail exchanged between the post offices in this metropolitan area.

In the past a major cause of complaint about mail service resulted from failures to provide overnight delivery between points within metropolitan areas only a few miles apart. Surveys established that 66 per cent of the letters mailed in the St. Louis Metropolitan Area stays in the area.

As part of this service improvement in the Missouri Counties, 50 highway mail routes have been adjusted, three local train services have been changed to highway, and a coordinated highway post office-truck train service established between St. Louis, Festus, Flat River, Cape Girardeau and Memphis in place of the prior all rail service. Included in the highway mail route changes is a new route between St. Louis and Hannibal, and another between St. Charles and Warrenton.

In the Illinois counties, 46 highway mail routes have been adjusted. In addition, special wagons will bring evening letter mail from the Carbondale, Centralia, Springfield and Jacksonville areas into St. Louis for special processing in the metropolitan mail unit. These vehicles will return in the early morning with mail from other metropolitan area offices. This type of service is new and will meet a long felt need in these areas. As in the Missouri counties, these extensive changes in the Illinois postal pattern streamline postal procedures and thus guarantee that nearby cities and towns can exchange their letters over night.

As an illustration, letters post marked at 7:00 p.m. in Jackson, Mo., will be delivered at Cape Girardeau, over 300 miles away, the next morning.

The St. Louis Main Post Office will be relieved of much transit mail processing, allowing earlier dispatch of letters mailed in the city. The changed transportation in the area will guarantee that all letters mailed in St. Louis during the evening will be delivered by the first mail at any office in the postal area.

Next Day Delivery

Next day delivery of most of the first class mail in the St. Louis Metropolitan Area is now possible because of a closely integrated timetable which governs the work of the Area's postal units and the transportation linking them together. Hard-working postal employees race against time throughout the night in order to make possible next day delivery of hundreds of thousands of letters to people in this Area.

Will Absorb Costs

All the improvements to speed delivery of mail have been accomplished with only a nominal increase in overall cost, which the Post Office Department expects to absorb with efficiencies that will result from training and experience in the new procedures.

38 County Area

This Metropolitan Improvement Project embraces the following 38 counties, as well as the St. Louis Post Office Delivery Area: Illinois Bond, Calhoun, Clinton, Greene, Jackson, Jefferson, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Marion, Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Perry, Pike, Randolph, St. Clair, Scott and Washington.

Missouri

Bollinger, Cape Girardeau, Crawford, Dent, Franklin, Gasconade, Jefferson, Lincoln, Madison, Perry, Phelps, Pike, Ralls, St. Charles, St. Francois, St. Genevieve, St. Louis, Scott, Warren and Washington.

THIS WEEK IN BUSINESS

By WALTER BREEDER JR., AP Business News Writer NEW YORK (AP) — With election day just around the corner, the nation's recovery from recession continued to pick up steam this week.

The auto industry came to life with a sudden production spurt that promised to benefit many other lines of business.

General Motors settled the last of its local labor disputes and swung into high gear.

Ford, Plymouth, Dodge, Rambler and Studebaker went on overtime. Some 98,000 shiny new models rolled off the assembly lines—the biggest weekly outpouring of passenger cars from U. S. factories since February.

Steel production, paperboard output and freight loadings slowed up a bit. Stock prices retreated a little from their historic heights.

Stock sales last week totaled 10,736,560 shares compared to 19,436,614 shares the previous week and 9,958,284 in the corresponding week last year.

Bond sales had a par value of $16,000 last week compared to $26,051,500 the week before and $22,872,100 in the same 1957 week.

Still very much on the upbeat were department store sales, electric power use, and dollar volume of contracts awarded for future construction.

A report by F. W. Dodge Corp. showed construction contracts awarded still racking up impressive gains over 1957.

Contracts let during September were up 26 per cent from a year ago. Residential contracts showed a 27 per cent rise and highway construction a gain of 47 per cent.

But contracts awarded for manufacturing plants were down 17 per cent in dollar volume, indicating that Big Business is not yet ready to boost its capital spending plans.

The pattern of general business recovery showed up clearly in the latest batch of corporate earnings reports. By and large, the nation's big manufacturing companies made less money in the July-September quarter than they did a year ago. But most earned more than in the April-June quarter. Many said they expected a further boost in profits in the fourth quarter and some predicted a continued rise for the first three months of 1959.

There was good news for retail merchants. Christmas Club a Corporation said money socked away under its Christmas Club saving plan this year will set a new high.

Some 7,900 banks will hand out $1,363,000,000 to Christmas Club depositors—three per cent more than in the 1957 payoff. It's calculated that the savers will spend 421 million dollars of this windfall on Christmas gifts and 73½ million on home furnishings and improvements.

What happens to the rest? Some will be used for buying stocks, some for travel, and some for paying bills. A lot will go back in the bank again to start new savings accounts. So say the people who run Christmas Club a Corporation.

Here's the latest on the employment situation:

Word filtered out of Washington this week that half a million more unemployed Americans found jobs in October. Government statisticians were reported working overtime on the report so the figures could be announced ahead of Tuesday's election deadline. President Eisenhower jumped the gun on official reports when he announced in a Baltimore speech Friday that unemployment dropped 300,000 in October.

Briefly over the business scene:

General Motors, only one of the auto industry's Big Three to wind up the first nine months of 1958 in the black, reported its January-September earnings down 16 per cent from a year ago.

Bethlehem Steel failed to earn its 60-cent dividend in the third quarter, but it's paying the full dividend anyway.

U. S. Steel's chairman, Roger Blough, said steel inventories are at their lowest level since 1950 and consumers are starting to build up their stocks again.

U. S. manufacturers are worrying about the continuing drop in export business. Some say the only way to meet foreign competition is to build your own factory on foreign soil.

Mrs. Mary G. Reebing, Trenton, N. J. bank executive, was elected a governor of the American Stock Exchange, the first woman in history to enjoy that distinction.

IN MAGISTRATE COURT

Fines were assessed by Police Magistrate Fred Daniels at a court session Saturday morning as follows:

Clarence Peters, $5 for not having valid driver's license; Lloyd Callahan, $20 for reckless driving and $5 for running stop sign; Dwight Chamberlain, $5 for not having valid driver's license and $20 for reckless driving; Frank Rantz, $5 for running stop sign; Frank Drury, $5 for running stop sign.

Superior Students' Experiment Grows

A special second section has been added to this year's course for superior students at Jacksonville high school, conducted in cooperation with MacMurray College. The course, begun in September and taught by Dr. Leroy Garrett of MacMurray, is designed for students with an average IQ of 125 but who do not have a correspondingly high achievement record.

Entitled "Principles of Philosophy," the course was made possible by a $30,000 grant to MacMurray by Lilly Endowment of Indianapolis. It was initiated in September, 1957, at JHS on a three-year experimental basis. Students in the top 12 per cent of JHS were enrolled in this original class that was characterized by those having high achievement records.

Dr. Garrett, who is Assistant Professor of Philosophy, explained that the objective in the second section is to "determine if students in selfhood will motivate the student."

The method is to emphasize discussions in philosophical material. The class discusses Plato, Aristotle, Plotinus, Spinoza, and James in an effort to help the student evaluate his or her personality.

Once per month, Dr. Garrett said, these students bring their parents along to a night session. Here, such fundamental problems as the nature of man, the meaning of history, and the nature of truth, are discussed with both parents and students participating.

It is thought that this type of study for the gifted student with a low achievement record may lead him to attend college," Dr. Garrett comments. "This may help solve the problem that the colleges face in losing a high percentage of talented students."

President Louis W. Norris of MacMurray first proposed the course to the Lilly Endowment Foundation several years ago. He said if this experiment is successful, MacMurray plans to train teachers who can offer work of

MUTTS' MOTEL

ANY dog that's ever lived in a dog house will probably never be the same after it has once stayed at the Ken-L-Land "Mutt-El," located adjacent to Disneyland at Anaheim, Calif. There, to drag in a cliché, a dog can really "put on the dog." The motel caters chiefly to canine customers, each of which gets its own private "room." Trained, uniformed attendants are on hand to meet the needs of each dog. The dogs are served food according to their masters' orders. There's just one flaw—one wing of the building is set aside for cats and other non-canines.

Greyhound registers for a room at the motel.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

GRAIN FUTURES REMAIN LOWER AFTER EARLIER RALLY

By GIL MAYO

AP Business News Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market showed some tendency this week to climb out of its season low price levels but the rally did not begin until Friday almost none of it was apparent. The setback was gradual and appeared to reflect disappointment that commercial and export business had been so long absent even with prices at or near ranges which some dealers said must surely be the bottom.

Although India bought about five million bushels of wheat during the week and Japan and Formosa took small amounts of wheat and soybeans, the sales brought no general bullishness into the futures pits on the Board of Trade. Corn and other grain sales through the government export subsidy program virtually came to a halt during the week mostly because of rejection by the Department of Agriculture of the submitted bids.

However, major grain firms said there should be a good volume of shipments via that route later on when exporters have had an opportunity to make revised bids on the basis of available supplies from the new crops.

At the end of the week, wheat was 3/4 cent a bushel lower to 1 1/4 higher than a week ago. December $1.93 1/4; corn 1/4 cent higher. December old type contract $1.10 1/4; oats 1/4 cent higher. December 64 1/2; soybeans 1/4 cent higher. November $2.10 1/4.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Commercial banks are fighting back today at the widespread charge that by helping the U. S. Treasury finance its 12 billion dollar deficit they will be feeding the fires of future monetary inflation.

The banks know that anything that might send the cost of living higher later on would be unpopular with the public. And they want to correct the notion they're a part of the act.

Actually, they say, they can't afford under today's credit policies to hold these short term government securities. So these bills and certificates are rapidly passing into the hands of corporations and others seeking to hold liquid funds.

Corporations favor them because rates are high enough of late to bring in attractive returns on idle funds, and the securities can be sold quickly when needed to pay taxes or other expenses.

The banks base their case on a U. S. Treasury survey of the ownership as of July 21 of the 67.8 billion dollars of marketable government securities due within one year. Federal Reserve Banks and U. S. government trust funds held 22.9 billion dollars of them. Less than one third of the remainder were held by commercial banks.

The charge is often made that the recent short term treasury financing will be inflationary because these securities are likely to be purchased by commercial banks with effects of increasing deposits and thus the money supply.

But the Federal Reserve's restrictive credit policy—higher charges that banks must pay if they borrow from it, and keeping down the free reserves of banks—has worked against this. First it squeezed the banks ability to buy and hold the securities. Second it produced higher interest rates which attracted outside funds.

The First National City Bank of New York says today: "What happened was that the banks initially took on the bulk of the securities as underwriters. Pressures on their reserves forced them to sell off the securities as quickly as buyers could be found."

Then the bank, after noting the treasury's technical success so far in getting its deficit financing redistributed outside the banks, warns that short term financing still involves an inflationary process.

The cash the treasury got is being spent, thus increasing active money circulation, and the corporations and others have "an undeniable claim upon the treasury for future money."

Whether the treasury can do some of its future deficit financing in the long term bond market is yet to be seen. If it can get its bonds into the hands of investors who will hold onto them for a long time, the inflationary effect is minimized.

Wright, Lohman Race Highlights Illinois Election

Cushman B. Bissell of Chicago and Doris Simpson Holt of Flora. Their Democratic challengers are Howard Clement of Dea Plaines, Richard Harewood of Chicago and Harold Foutz of Decatur.

The Congressional delegation now is split, 11 Republicans and 11 Democrats. There are three vacancies, all caused by deaths of Republican Congressmen.

Illinoisans also will vote for members of the State Legislature. At the 1957 session the lineup was 38 Republicans and 20 Democrats in the Senate, and 94 Republicans and 43 Democrats in the House.

The top referendum is a proposed constitutional amendment to revamp the court structure with the aim of simplifying the system and making it more efficient.

Citizens also can vote "yes" or "no" on proposals for: A change in the state constitution that would permit county treasurers and sheriffs to run for reelection.

A 75 million dollar bond issue for a bonus for veterans of service in Korea.

A 248 million dollar bond issue for buildings at six state-supported universities and mental hospitals.

A switch in the supervision of state banks from the state auditor's office to the new Department of Financial Institutions.

County offices also are on the ballot. Cook County has a lively three-year show for the office of sheriff which Joseph Lohman is leaving.

The competitors are Democratic Frank Sain, superintendent of the House of Correction, the city's jail; Republican Peter McGuire, a career policeman who is chief investigator for Atty. Gen. Latham Castle; and Jack Muller, a policeman who is widely known for tagging cars of hundreds of people, big and little alike. Muller is running as an independent.

Use Groups In Illinois, India To Study Radiation Effects

ad USE GROUPS
By FRANK CAREY
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two groups of people—one in Illinois and one in India—are to be used in unusual studies of the possible effects of radiation, the Atomic Energy Commission's medical chief said Wednesday.

Dr. Charles Dunham said they are groups of people who live under circumstances where they are chronically exposed to natural sources of radiation to a greater intensity than are people in general.

The idea would be to determine whether they have experienced any harmful effects, including genetic ones, from such long-term exposure.

And such studies, Dunham indicated, might then provide a gauge of what might be expected among the population in general from any chronic exposure to low levels of radiation from man-made sources.

Rescue 7 More Miners Trapped For 8 1/2 Days

"First we heard scratchings and then moans," said miner Vernon Barry of the rescue squad. That was at 4:30 a. m.

"We dug a little more in the stone. There was scratching again. We holed and then we thought we heard men. The first voice sounded like Martin's. We broke through and saw enough it was Martin."

Rescue crews, in a desperate effort, smashed through two rock barricades in 50 minutes and found the other six huddled in a pocket 3 feet high, 5 feet wide and 24 feet long.

With Raddick and Jewkes were Herbert Pepperdine, 36, Gurnel Clarke, 29, Currie Smith, 35, and Frank Hunter, 49.

"It's been a triple miracle," declared Victor Hunter, captain of the rescue crew, when he found his brother Frank among the six.

Another brother, Fred, was among the 12 saved Thursday. A third brother, Percy, was brought out the night of the disaster.

The men were found nearly a mile below ground, about 300 feet from where the other 12 were located. They also told of the sudden bump and the crash of rock and coal and the dust in the clogged tunnels.

Their meager supply of food and water was exhausted Monday. They ate coal and bark from the shattered mine timbers around them. Their miners' lamps went out after a few days.

As the senior among the six, Raddick acted as their leader. He led them in songs. And they prayed. They were confident they would be saved.

The first thing the doctors gave the seven was a little water, then hot coffee.

At the hospital, Pepperdine told his wife: "Give me a quart of whisky, will you?"

Clarke told mine spokesman Patterson he observed his 29th birthday Monday with one stale sandwich he had brought into the pits with him.

"They cut up the sandwich, imagining it was a birthday cake," Patterson said. "Then they sang 'Happy Birthday, Dear Gurnel' and some hymns. Then they prayed awhile."

A seventh man with the six died the next day, just a day before renewed hope came to the men at the sound of distant digging. His body was brought to the surface after the other six were rescued.

Word that more survivors had been found spread—by word of mouth, neighbors knocking on windows and shouting.

Snow cars were speeding down streets of this mining town of 7,000 to the pithead. The reaction of many seemed to be one of disbelief they sat around for the most part saying little and shaking their heads.

They found it hard to accept two miracles in three days.

Fumbles Cost Fighting Illini 31-8 Loss

Purdue Capitailizes On Three Illini Bobbles For Win

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers practically rubbed out Illinois' Big Ten title chances Saturday 31-8, scoring two touchdowns on the ground and two by air. Illini fumbles set up three of them.

Purdue's Skip Ohl, a stubby sophomore guard, added to the Illini humiliation by kicking two field goals for a modern Big Ten record. He also converted an extra point.

But the Big Ten record book showed no player had kicked over one field goal in a single game since Big Ten record books were revised in 1939. Ohl kicked his from the 20 and 17.

Purdue's terrific line held Illinois to a net gain of 4 yards in the first half while the Boilermakers took advantage of Illinois errors for 133 yards and an 18-0 lead. End Dick Brooks and guard Ron Maltony gave Illinois backs a particularly bad time.

The Boilermakers, ranked No. 10 this week in The Associated Press poll, ran up their big half-time advantage with the help of two Illinois fumbles. An Illini holding mistake and an intentional grounding penalty against the Joes' Bob Hickey on his 6.

Halfback Leonard Wilson plunged two yards for Purdue's first touchdown after Illinois fumbled on its 30. The Illini fumbled again on their 46 and Ohl kicked his 20-yard field goal.

Fullback Bob Jarus, whom the Illini couldn't handle throughout the rainy afternoon, dived two yards for another Boilermaker touchdown in the second quarter, and Ohl centered another field goal.

Purdue got its last-half touchdowns on a 23-yard pass play, Ross Fichtner to Tom Frankhauser, and a nine-yard last minute pass from Bernard Allen to Manzie Winters. Both are sophomores.

Illinois, which blanked Michigan State last week, played its best ball in the last quarter, when it took to the air with the slippery ball.

Halfback Marshall Starks dived over the Purdue 2 at the end of a 32-yard drive that started with a Boilermaker fumble. John Easterbrook had passed 16 yards to Gene Carr for the biggest gain and got off an 11-yard run himself. Easterbrook kicked to Starks for two extra points.

Easterbrook hit end Rich Kreiling with a 20-yard pass late in the game, but the Illini had to punt.

Starks almost put Illinois on the scoreboard on the last play of the first half, scooting 46 yards before he was hauled down on the Purdue 32.

Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois commented, "We were just licked. Those two fumbles at the start took the heart out of us."

He commented that Jarus "can do anything—he can run inside and he can outside; he can hit; he's one of the best I've ever seen."

Eliot added that Hickey, No. 1 quarterback, was handicapped by a stiff wrist "but that didn't make any difference."

Shotgun Deer Hunters Aim At Record Harvest

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Illinois shotgun deer hunters took a big step toward a predicted record harvest of over 2,000 by bagging close to 1,000 Friday and Saturday without all reports in.

The season ends Sunday at 4 p.m. The State Conservation Department predicted the record kill on the basis of reports received by midday Saturday. The old record of 1,821 deer was set last year.

Latest figures available listed at least 985 deer killed in 22 out of the 33 counties in which hunting is taking place. There was no report from the 11 other counties, and many of the 22 did not have figures complete through Friday, the opening day.

Among the non-reporting 11 was Union County, one of the most fruitful in the state. Leader was Ogle County with 225 reported, though that figure was complete only through Friday. Next came Carroll with 140.

No casualties were reported. Largest deer killed was a 308-pound, 45-year-old buck, bagged in Henderson County by Willard M. Bell of Sciota.

More than 1,000 hunters were sold permits. An additional 1,500 landowners received free permits. Game wardens are allowing sale of more permits in four counties—Ogle, Winnebago, Union and Pope—as hunters come out with their kill.

Three Major Clubs Clinch League Titles In Prep Football

By JOHN HILLIER
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Three major Illinois high school football teams—Murphysboro, Mount Carmel and Marshall—clinched league titles with victories Friday night.

Four others—East St. Louis, Elgin, Peoria Manual and Thornton of Harvey—assured themselves at least a share of conference laurels. All of the leading unbeaten elevens triumphed.

Murphysboro edged its only remaining adversary, Anna—Jonesboro, 20-19, to remain spotless for the year and wrap up honors in the Southwest Egyptian conference. It was Anna's second defeat.

Mount Carmel dumped Olney 19-7 for clear claim to the North Egyptian crown. Last year's winner, Fairfield, whipped Lawrenceville 39-0 to grab second place.

Unbeaten Marshall won handily in its showdown with Casey 19-0 to annex the Eastern Illinois League flag.

East St. Louis looked like the Southwestern Conference titleholder after crushing Collinsville 61-0. Alton dropped a 7-0 verdict to Granite City. Alton's only hope of moving up rests on East St. Louis losing remaining contests.

Elgin's Maroons humbled winless Joliet 50-0 in the Big Eight. With one loop weekend left, a tie is certain for the undefeated Maroons. LaSalle-Peru, winner over Freeport 14-6, has dropped one decision.

Peoria Manual's unblemished runs passed a key Mid-State Eight trial in besting Richwoods 13-6. Only one circuit game remains for Manual. Once-beaten Pekin stayed in the running by topping Peoria Spalding, also by a 13-6 count.

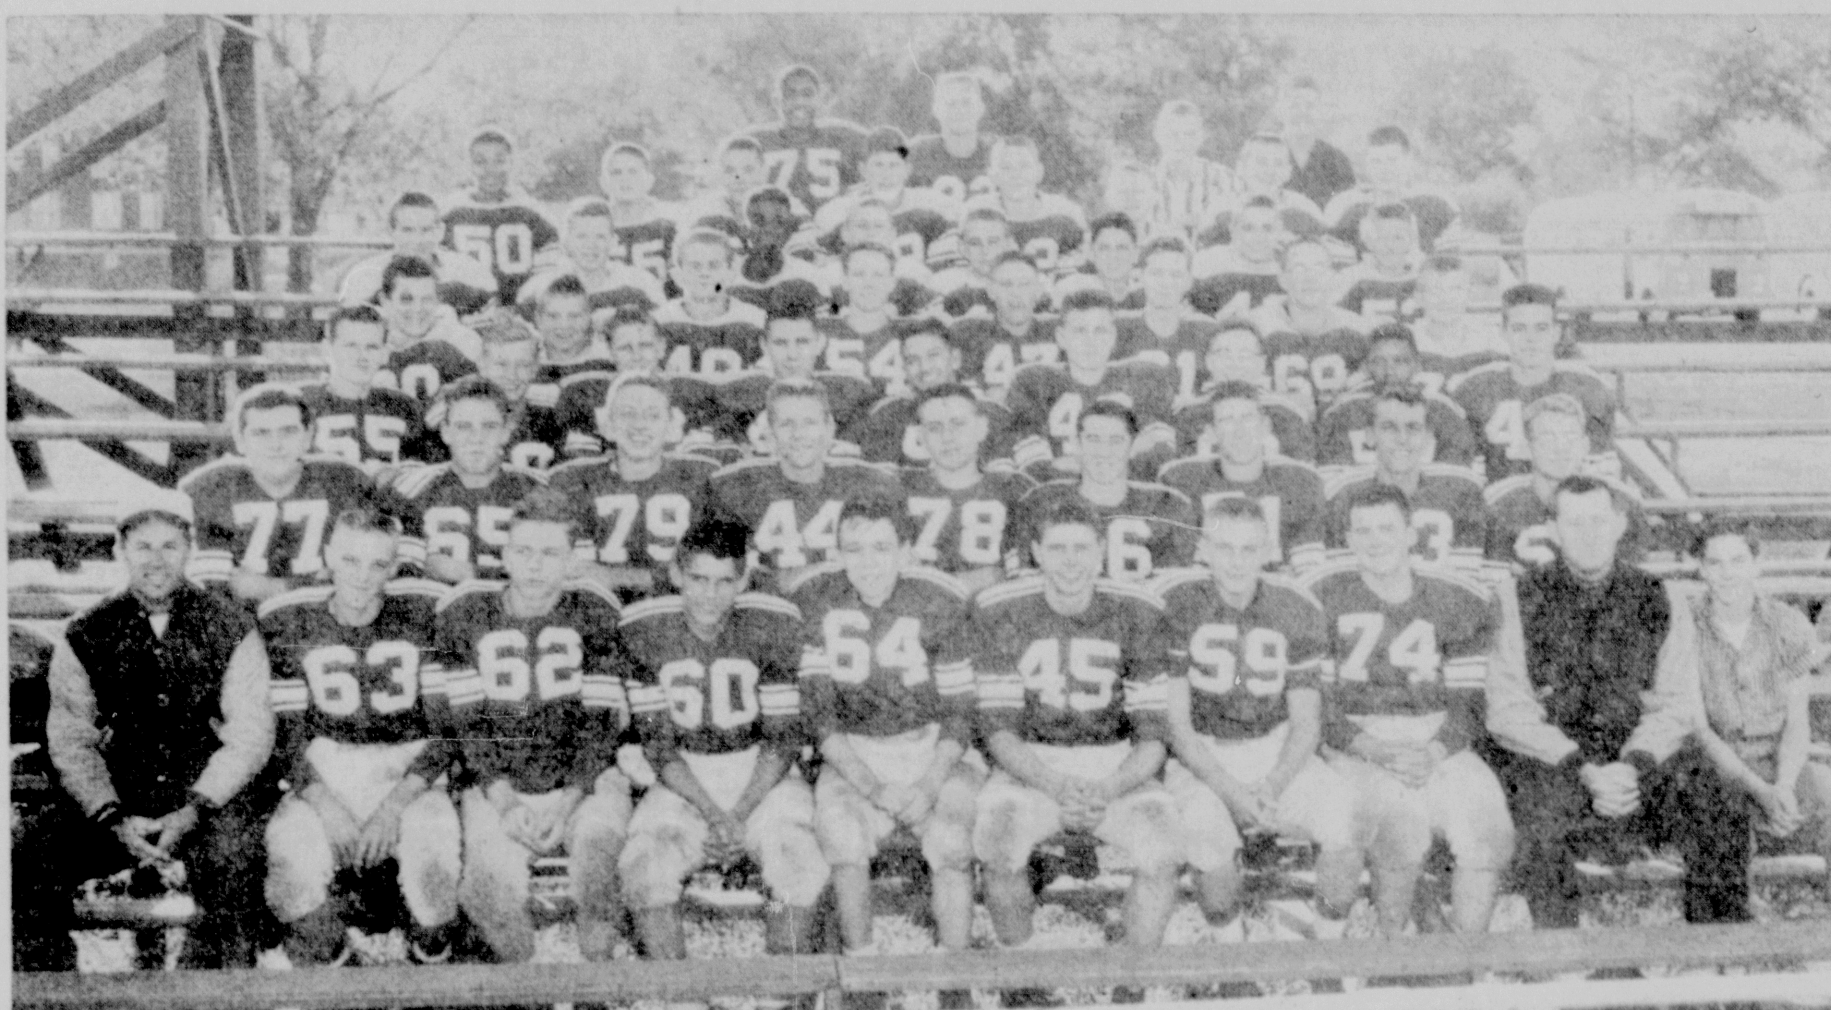

Thornton of Harvey tamed Kankakee 26-0 to gain at least a portion of South Suburban League spoils. Only contender with one outing left is defending champ Bloom of Chicago Heights, 40-14 superior of Lockport.

Centralia won what was for the mighty Orphans a low-scoring game, 31-0 over Mount Vernon. The unbeaten Orphans' only competition in South Seven play, West Frankfort, posted Harrisburg 30-7. The two leaders meet to decide the crownholder next weekend.

Mattoon's Big 12 front-runners attained a 4-0 league record by downing Urbana 13-6 to take a major step toward the championship. Bloomington has three wins and a tie after blanking Springfield 20-0.

Other unbeaten teams to keep rolling were Macomb Western, winner over Lewistown 25-7; Sullivan, 40-6 conqueror of Arthur; and Onarga Military Academy, which belted Saunemin 47-6.

Badgers Halt Inspired Second-Half Rally To Topple Spartans, 9-7

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Wisconsin clung doggedly to an early lead and fought off an inspired Michigan State second-half comeback for a 9-7 football victory here Saturday.

Wisconsin dominated the first half, scoring on an 80-yard drive and a field goal for a 9-0 intermission advantage.

But Michigan State thrilled a homecoming crowd of 71,040 and a nationwide television audience with a third-period revival on an 87-yard scoring march.

The Spartan second stringers put together the big push. Quarterback Mike Panich, a former starter demoted to a reserve role, passed the last seven yards to Sammy Williams in the end zone.

John Hobbs kicked the Wisconsin field goal from the 18 later in the second period.

Michigan State's Dean Look pulled the most spectacular play of the game when he returned a punt 80 yards for what looked like a score, also in the second quarter.

Unbeaten Marshall won handily in its showdown with Casey 19-0 to annex the Eastern Illinois League flag.

East St. Louis looked like the Southwestern Conference titleholder after crushing Collinsville 61-0. Alton dropped a 7-0 verdict to Granite City. Alton's only hope of moving up rests on East St. Louis losing remaining contests.

Western Claims Normal, 16-10

NORMAL, Ill. (AP)—Western Illinois University put together two sustained drives, made the best of conversions and defeated Illinois State Normal 16-10 Saturday in Interstate Conference football.

The win boosted Western's conference record to 3-1 and dropped ISNU to 1-2.

Normal capitalized on a Western fumble early in the game, moving the ball seven yards and kicking a field goal from the 11. Western bounced back and in 14 plays moved 75 yards for a touchdown on a 3-yard plunge by halfback Dan Waskevich.

Another long drive in the second quarter, 68 yards in nine plays, produced the other Western TD on a quarterback sneak by Mike McFarland. Western made good on both two-point efforts.

Cadets Clobber Colgate, 68-6

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Coach Earl (Red) Blaik swept the Army bench clean Saturday in a 68-6 rout of outclassed Colgate. The Cadets' powerful first team, responsible for the No. 3 ranking in the nation, never saw action in the second half.

Jim Kennedy, a 160-pound reserve fullback, and halfback Bob Anderson each scored twice during the romp. Pete Dawkins, Steve Waldrop, Glen Adams, Gil Roessler, Russ Waters and Roger Zalkas each had one in the 10-touchdown deluge.

It was the largest score by an Army team since the 81-0 thumping of Furman in the 1955 opener.

The Cadets smothered Colgate's ground gain, holding the Red Raiders to 13 yards rushing. Army rolled to 522 yards, 279 by rushing and 243 by passing.

Obscure players who never have played in a varsity game broke into the lineup. In fact one man, guard James D. Miller, wasn't even on the program listing.

Jim Black, Crimson end, prepares to haul in Merritt Norvell's four-yard TD pass in second quarter of Jacksonville High's 27-0 romp over Bethalto. JHS story and pictures plus additional coverage of Friday night prep football will be found on page 8 of today's supplement section.

Iowa Takes Giant Stride Toward Title, Routs Michigan, 37-14

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Iowa's title-hungry Hawkeyes ended long years of frustration and torment and took a giant stride toward a Big Ten crown and Rose Bowl bid Saturday by turning back Michigan 37-14.

After stopping that threat, quarterback Randy Duncan sparked the Hawks on a 94-yard march for a fourth touchdown.

Fleming's 61-yard sprint in the final minutes was merely frosting on Evashevski's cake.

The Michigan team that had lost its first two fullbacks—Capit, John Herrstein on an early season injury and Tony Rio earlier this week in a campus gambling scandal—showed an inspired offense under the direction of quarterback Bob Placek.

Placek passed for one touchdown and scored the other himself after spearheading both drives.

The Hawkeyes are rated No. 2 in the nation and are undisputed Big Ten leaders with a 4-0 conference mark.

After his club had ripped the Iowa defense for scoring drives of 66 and 74 yards, quarterback Stan Noskin fumbled on his own three-yard line early in the third period. That fired up Iowa and the Hawks went in for the go-ahead touchdown.

Bob Jeter raced three yards around end for Iowa's third touchdown and from then on it was all Iowa.

Twice Michigan drove into Iowa territory, but both times gave up the ball or downs, once at the Hawkeye six.

Thornton's Passing Hands Bucks First Big Ten Loss In Two Years

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Sophomore Dick Thornton passed for Northwestern's longest aerial touchdown in history in the third period and then ran and tossed for two more scores in the fourth to wheel the Wildcats to a stunning 21-0 rout of Ohio State Saturday.

The loss was the Buckeyes' first in the Big Ten in two years and it marked the first time Northwestern had beaten them since 1948.

The second largest crowd ever to gather in Dwyer Stadium, 51,102, was on hand to cheer on the homecoming triumph which gave the conference Cinderella team a 5-1 season mark. The 'Cats didn't win a game last year.

A defensive struggle, in which neither side came within 18 yards of scoring, was broken open by Thornton in the last 90 seconds of the third period.

On the Northwestern 33, he passed to halfback Ron Burton on the Buckeyes 35 and Burton streaked to the first TD.

The play, good for 67 yards, eclipsed the old Northwestern record of 66 on Don Burton's touchdown toss to Ed Tummelchiff in 1949.

Thornton booted the point. In the fourth, Thornton plunged for one touchdown, passed for another and flipped an aerial for a two-point conversion.

Midway in the final period, Northwestern's defense, for the second time, stopped the Buckeyes' Bob White on fourth down and a yard to go.

Northwestern took over on the Buck 44. After two short gains, Thornton ripped around end for 32 yards to the Ohio State one. Then he plunged across, but his placekick for the extra point was wide and the Wildcats led 13-0.

With two minutes left, Thornton stole Frank Kremblas' pass and ran it back 29 yards to the Ohio State 21. The Wildcats moved it to the three from where Deadeye Dick rifled a touchdown toss to sophomore end Elbert Kimbrough. Thornton then passed to Burton for the extra two points. After the game, hundreds of fans stormed onto the field and besieged the goalposts. Police were powerless to prevent the demonstration touched off in what must go down as Northwestern's greatest homecoming achievement.

The Buckeyes marched in typical meat-grinder fashion 57 yards to Northwestern's 25 at the outset of the second period. But White was stopped short on fourth down and a yard to go. That was the closest OSU came until the start of the fourth when the Bucks reached the Northwestern's 18. Kremblas' fourth down pass was knocked down by Jim Andreotti.

Northwestern outgained the one touchdown-favored Buckeyes, 231 yards to 156 on the ground and 122 to 51 in the air.

Thornton carried the ball 15 times for 83 yards and hit on 5 of 10 passes for 122 more.

White was confined for 51 yards in 17 trips while Kremblas completed but 1 pass in 12 attempts. Ohio State 0 0 0 0-0

Thornton booted the point. In the fourth, Thornton plunged for one touchdown, passed for another and flipped an aerial for a two-point conversion.

Midway in the final period, Northwestern's defense, for the second time, stopped the Buckeyes' Bob White on fourth down and a yard to go.

Northwestern took over on the Buck 44. After two short gains, Thornton ripped around end for 32 yards to the Ohio State one. Then he plunged across, but his placekick for the extra point was wide and the Wildcats led 13-0.

With two minutes left, Thornton stole Frank Kremblas' pass and ran it back 29 yards to the Ohio State 21. The Wildcats moved it to the three from where Deadeye Dick rifled a touchdown toss to sophomore end Elbert Kimbrough. Thornton then passed to Burton for the extra two points. After the game, hundreds of fans stormed onto the field and besieged the goalposts. Police were powerless to prevent the demonstration touched off in what must go down as Northwestern's greatest homecoming achievement.

The Buckeyes marched in typical meat-grinder fashion 57 yards to Northwestern's 25 at the outset of the second period. But White was stopped short on fourth down and a yard to go. That was the closest OSU came until the start of the fourth when the Bucks reached the Northwestern's 18. Kremblas' fourth down pass was knocked down by Jim Andreotti.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NOTRE DAME alumni are squawking again. They didn't like the defeats by Army and Purdue, although the Irish were in the thick of both fights until the closing seconds.

The complaining Old Blues still seem to believe that Notre Dame was cut out for perennial domination of college football, although this is a thing of the misty past unless you are an Oklahoma player in the Big Eight. Because of its rugged schedule, Notre Dame, under Terry Brennan or anybody else, should be delighted to settle for a 7 and 3 record.

There is altogether too much good material and smart coaching scattered around the country for the result to be otherwise. The game has advanced to such an extent that it is as rough on forecasters as it is on losing coaches.

Speaking of Notre Dame, Burton Benjamin has produced a remarkable profile of Knute Rockne for the CBS Twentieth Century television series. The most extraordinary facet of the show is that there is so much film on this great man who was killed less than three years after the movies began to make noises.

THE QUOTES ARE SO typical that they might have been said on the field last Saturday, and the game would be better off if they had been.

"It seems to be quite illogical when people think that 11 football players who are very smart and alert on the field must therefore be very dull and stupid in the classroom," said Rock. "And it seems to be very illogical to think that because if those boys are very dull and stupid on the football field they of course are going to be good students in the classroom."

Rockne knew that the coach stood only as good as his teams. "The average classroom professor imparts his knowledge of the subject the best he knows how, but still has the prerogative of flunking half his class," he said. "The football coach has to be a super-teacher because if he flunks half his team he flunks with 'em!"

THERE WAS A LOT OF objection to spring football even before the Ivy League banned it.

"I objected to it myself because I can see where it interferes with your necking and drinking," Rock told his squad. "But your folks have written in and want you to play pretty much in the afternoon so that in the evening you'll be tired enough to stay home and study."

"We only have about four weeks this spring on account of the late season — and so we'll have to do a better job of teaching than usual. Of course I know of some coaches that only have one week of spring football but we can't teach as well as they can. It will take us four weeks at least, so let's get together and do the best we can."

WHEN YOU SAW A GAME 30 years ago, Rockne pointed out, the only time you saw the ball was when the referee threw it out.

So he opened up the game not only to utilize a small, smart, active, agile player, but so that the public could see what was going on. "I got my football from Jesse Harper," he used to say, "and Harper got it from Amos Alonzo Stagg. All football comes from Stagg."

There are many illustrious names in football, but Knute Rockne was its best salesman. He sold it to the nation.

Third Period TD Brings Indiana 6-0 Win Over Gophers

By RON GILBERT

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana's line held stonewall steady and the Hoosiers drove the length of a soggy field in the third quarter to beat Minnesota 6-0 Saturday.

It was the underrated Hoosiers' third football victory of the season but their first in Big Ten competition in two years. The loss was the Gophers' sixth straight of the season and their ninth in succession. Their last victory was over Indiana last year.

The Indiana secondary let Minnesota pass receivers get behind them for three long gains, but they also killed two Gopher touchdowns with interceptions.

Larry Johnson passed to Perry Gehring for 56 yards to the Indiana 21 in the third quarter. Joe Salem passed to Tom Moe for 38 yards to the 21, then Johnson hit Moe for 67 yards to the Indiana 14 as time was running out. Minnesota registered only four first downs, but three of them came close to being three touchdowns.

Big Reception Awaits Bears In LA Coliseum

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The title-challenging Chicago Bears trooped into town Saturday, well aware that a tremendous reception awaits them in Memorial Coliseum Sunday.

It won't be a friendly welcome, of course, because the Bears are the villains who clawed the local heroes, the Rams, to pieces in Chicago two weeks ago, and figure to duplicate the trick. But the Bears and their famous coach, George Halas, can expect to hear one of the greatest deluge of razzberries in history when they take the field.

And it is safe to say that no one will enjoy it more than Halas himself — as he mentally chokes the house and figures his financial take from the game. He can expect 90,000 or more in the joint.

One thing does worry some devoted but thoughtful Ram followers. This kind of reception might make the big Bears mad. Things are bad enough with the Rams as it is.

Take the game in Chicago. Don (The Blade) Burroughs, a Ram defensive halfback, picked a beef with guard Al Gibrion of the Bears. Credit The Blade with courage but lack of discretion. He weighs a slim 185, Gibrion a big 250.

Some sources here have been almost hysterical over the fact that Halas rooms far out of the zone between the 40-yard stripes where coaches are supposed to stay.

They accuse Halas of influencing the officials. But oddly enough Halas has been traveling up and down the sidelines for many, many years and it never kicked up such a storm as this year.

AIN'T THIS THE BERRIES?

Ripe purple raspberries are a delicious treat most anytime of the year, especially during the October 'Indian Summer.' Most of us have to rely upon the corner grocery or the family deep freeze for the Ball dessert but not Russell E. Murphree, 524 Sandusky.

Russell brought us a sample of the latest thing for October gardeners—juicy, purple raspberries, vine ripened. He picked a quart of the berries Saturday and will, no doubt, be served at dessert time today.

The raspberries also bore fruit in June. It is quite unusual for a second crop to appear in this area during the Fall season.

State College Briefs

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP)—Favored Central Michigan, held at bay for most of the game, exploded for three touchdowns in the last 11 minutes of play Saturday to whip Eastern Illinois University, 27-8.

Eastern went ahead of highly ranked Central 8-7 when Central halfback Walter Beach was tackled in the end zone for a safety early in the fourth quarter.

Three plays later Beach ran 74 yards for a touchdown. Beach later scored on a 1 yard plunge and Central's Bill Odykirk scored the final touchdown on a 30-yard run with an intercepted Eastern pass.

Eastern, winless in five Interstate Conference games led Central in first downs 13-8 and 237 to 217 in yards gained rushing. Central has won 4, lost none in IAC play.

CARTHAGE, Ill. (AP)—Eureka College uncorked a 72-yard first quarter run to draw first blood against Carthage College Saturday, but Carthage bounced back with six touchdowns and a 40-6 victory.

Three Carthage scores came via the air, two of them from quarterback Augie Schmidt. Halfback Wendell Olson pulled down a 37-yard pass from Schmidt for one of the touchdowns in the fourth period.

Guard Jack Patterson converted for four of the extra points. Eureka outscored Carthage 482 yards to 131. Halfback Ron McCready scored Eureka's lone TD.

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Lake Forest College scored in every quarter Saturday and whipped Elmhurst College 68-7 in a College Conference of Illinois football game.

It was the 13th conference loss in a row for Elmhurst. The win enabled Lake Forest to even its CCI record at 3-3.

Ed Young of Lake Forest turned in the longest scoring run of the game, a 60-yard dash in the third period. He also drove over from the one-yard line in the second quarter. Elmhurst's lone score also came in the second period.

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Southern Illinois University took advantage of Washington and Lee mistakes in every quarter Saturday to run up a 36-7 score in an intercollegiate football game.

Southern, playing before a homecoming crowd of 12,000, scored almost at will in the final quarter, pushing across one touchdown after a long drive and intercepting a pass for the second.

The Generals passed with ease. Quarterback Jack Groner completed 14 out of 20 passes for more than 160 yards. Several costly fumbles occurred on misplaced punts in the Washington and Lee laterals.

Three SIU drives were stopped deep in General territory by Washington and Lee's big line. Tom Budd, 215-pound General guard, was the wheel horse in the line.

SIU rushed 311 yards and gained 16 first downs compared to Washington and Lee's 39 yards on the ground and 10 first downs.

SIU passed for 24 yards. The Generals now are 1-4 for the season and SIU, having its best year in 10 seasons, is 6-1. It was SIU's first homecoming victory since 1935.

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—A 24-yard pass from Joe Suffed to Carl Goff Saturday gave Monmouth a 12-12 tie with Grinnell in a Midwest Conference football game.

The game-tying aerial play was performed in the fourth quarter. The same combination scored on a 20-yard pass in the third period. Grinnell scored in the second quarter on a one-yard plunge by Jim Lowrey. John Copeland went over from the one in the third to complete Grinnell's scoring for the day.

Grinnell now has a 1-3-2 record. Monmouth's now is 2-3-1.

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Illinois Wesleyan struck twice from the air Saturday to down Millikin 13-6 in a College Conference of Illinois football game.

A 16-yard pass from quarterback Bill Ihlenfeldt to halfback Ray Morgan put Wesleyan ahead in the first period. End Luther Bedford converted successfully.

The Wesleyan air attack clicked again in the third quarter on a 40-yard pass play from Ihlenfeldt to Bedford.

Millikin retaliated just before time ran out with a successful 24-yard pass play from quarterback Larry Haab to end Chuck Davella. A Millikin threat was snuffed out in the second period when Wesleyan stood firm after a Millikin first down on the one-yard line.

Wesleyan stands 4-2 in CCI play. Millikin 2-4.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Ron Jensen threw three touchdown passes Saturday to lead Carroll to a 34-18 victory over Augustana. Jensen threw one scoring pass of 30 yards to Dave Veldhuizen in the first period, hit Veldhuizen with a one-yard plunge in the second and tossed 35 yards to Marty Barker in the third.

Joe Rechner scored for Carroll on a four yard run in the third and a teammate, Ken Hill, sprinted 32 yards for a touchdown in the first period.

Lee Stopoulos made two touchdowns for Augustana, going over from the one yard line in the second quarter and again in the fourth.

Fullback Fairrol Robbins scored on a one yard plunge for Augustana in the fourth period. Carroll now has a 5-1 record in 14, by 2 and 1.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL

The top ten high school football team downstate in the ratings are as follows: (1) East St. Louis; (2) Centralia; (3) Elgin; (4) Alton (Rock Island); (5) Peoria Manual; (6) Lincoln (East St. Louis); (7) LaSalle-Peru; (8) Galesburg; (9) Quincy; (10) Pekin.

Junior Brown of Astoria, Knox college halfback, ranks sixth in the nation among (NCAA) small college punters. The 6-2 185 pound senior has averaged 42 yards per kick this season. He also kicks extra points. He is one of the top runners on the Knox team and an excellent defensive player.

The big game will be played November 22 when Northwestern plays at Illinois and the Illini have a slight chance to even the all time football record with the Wildcats. Since the two teams started playing back in 1892, Northwestern has won 24 games and Illinois 23. Four contests ended in ties. Tickets are still available for this game and the cost is four dollars per ticket—see the Football Ticket Office, 102 Ill. Hall, Champaign, Illinois, if interested.

Bradley U. athletic department will conduct a clinic for the Illinois Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Robertson Memorial fieldhouse on November 15. This clinic had previously been reported as being scheduled at Argo Community high school. More than 100 high school coaches from around the State are expected to attend the one day meeting and the clinic is being held in conjunction with the Association's Annual Convention in Peoria.

The Bradley U. board of trustees have decided to make an exception to the television policy on the occasion of the "Game of the Week" between Bradley U. and Cincinnati U. on March 7, 1959, at 2 p.m.

The board's decision was to remove the "blackout" restriction within 150 miles of Peoria providing all seats for the game are sold 48 hours in advance of the game. This game is usually a sell-out or near to it and the fact that TV cameras are set up for the game it will make more people want to be in attendance at the fieldhouse.

Roodhouse high is enjoying the best football season in 11 years as Coach Jack Jordan's fine team is unbeaten in six games. The last defeat came on Nov. 11 on their own field last year against the "Dix" McCarthy's White Hall eleven. The seven victims this season of the Railroaders are Waverly, White Hall, Carrollton, Pleasant Hill, Hardin, Virginia, Carrollton and White Hall have a chance of being co-champs of the conference with the loss of one or two games by the Railroaders providing the Hawks and Maroons win both games on their charts.

Pittsfield and Jerseyville were co-champs during the 1955 season, their last in the loop. It looks like the officials of the conference were a little hasty in getting them out of the conference as both have taken it on the chin against Valley teams this season as Carrollton is favored to win over Pittsfield on Nov. 14.

"My choice for coach of the year," said Hayes, "they outsped us, outplayed us, outcoached us and outthought us."

ELSAH, Ill. (AP)—Extra points and quarterback Ron Nolte were the difference Saturday in a Principia College 21-18 victory over Central of Missouri before an enthusiastic homecoming crowd here.

Nolte scored two of the Principia Indians' touchdowns, one on a one-yard quarterback sneak and the other on a six-yard dash around his right end with 31 seconds left in the game. That touchdown ended the day's scoring and gave the Indians the victory.

The Central Eagles scored early in each of the first, second and third quarters to keep the lead for most of the game.

Principia's other touchdown was on an 85-yard kickoff return by Jack Power.

Central gained a total of 287 yards against 151 for the Indians.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. — Illinois College scored in the opening minutes of play for a short-lived lead but Rose Poly bounced back here Saturday afternoon to bump Joe Brooks' Blueboys, 40-7, in Prairie College Conference competition.

The defeat squelched any hopes for a share of the conference crown Illinois College may have had. I. C. tumbled to second place in the loop standings. The semifinal contest of the season for the Blueboys left them with three wins and four losses. They conclude their campaign next Saturday afternoon at Payette, Mo., against Central College, a team they shut out in their opener, 20-0.

Several players from both squads were ejected for personal fouls near the end of the rough contest.

Poly kicked to open the game and held the Blueboys in check to bring about a punt situation. The Engineers took over on their own 16 and fumbled a play later. Runs by halfback Mike Scott carried I. C. to the Engineer two from where QB Bob Volk sneaked across. Scott's PAT conversion was good with 11:45 left to be played in the initial frame.

The winners garnered eight points in the first quarter and accounted for 13 points in the second stanza for a 21-7 lead at halftime. The 19-point production in the second half ran Poly's total to 40, the highest score turned in against the Blueboys

Prizes of $1 for the best costumes were awarded by the three judges: Dr. William O'Reilly, Ted Forshey and Mrs. Temple Grout to the following children.

Test Soil Now
Farmers should secure soil tests this fall, especially if they desire to use limestone or rock phosphate under the 1959 A.C. Program, according to a statement by Nimrod Funk, chairman of the Scott ASC County Committee.

Beginning with the 1959 calendar year a new program requires that a proper soil test must be on file before cost-sharing assistance for limestone and rock phosphate can be approved under the Agricultural Conservation Program. It is for this reason that we make a particular point of urging farmers to take their soil samples this fall and have tests run at the earliest possible date, explained Mr. Funk.

Actually this suggestion is just a matter of good business regardless of interest or desire in the Agricultural Conservation Program. Certainly one of the basic steps in planning next year's operations is to find out what the land needs in the way of limestone and fertilizers. This is determined by a soil test which is our best guide to the wise use of rather expensive materials.

There are a number of advantages in handling this matter at this time of the year. Fields have been harvested are generally accessible for taking the soil samples. Approved testing laboratories are usually in a position to give prompt service during this period. The needs of the land will be known during the time when operating plans are being made. Information will be available to permit the County Committee to promptly consider and act on any requests for limestone and rock phosphate cost-sharing under the ACP that the farmer may desire to file.

Achievement
Plans for the annual 4-H Achievement Award program have been announced and the ceremony of presentation will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 6, at the high school.

CATTLE ON FEED UP 12 PER CENT FROM YEAR AGO

Farmers are fattening 12 per cent more cattle than they were a year ago, but marketings of fat cattle may not increase that much. Some of this larger count reflects longer stays in feedlots rather than an increase in numbers going in — and coming out for slaughter.

The USDA has estimated the number of cattle being fattened in 13 leading states on Oct. 1 at 3,592,000 head. This total compares with 3,211,000 head one year before and is about one-half per cent short of the record high for the date set two years before.

LONGER FEEDING PERIOD INCREASES NUMBERS TO BE COUNTED AT ANY TIME. The longer stays in feedlots this year are shown both by the length of time the cattle have been on feed and by the farmer's intentions for marketing them.

Compared with a year earlier, the number on feed less than three months was up only 2 per cent, but the number on feed three to six months was up 24 per cent, and the number on feed over six months was up 20 per cent. Also, compared with last year, intended marketings for October-November are up only 4 per cent, while intended marketings for December and later are up 17 per cent.

Cattle in feedlots this year have also been on feed longer, and farmers plan to market them later than they did two years ago, when numbers being fed were at a record high for the season.

AVERAGE WEIGHTS GREATER THAN IN THE PAST. Cattle are reported in new weight groupings this year, so direct weight comparisons with previous years cannot be made. However, it appears that the cattle in feedlots on Oct. 1 averaged 20 or 25 pounds a head heavier than those of a year earlier, and about 40 pounds heavier than the cattle on feed two years ago. Thus the tonnage of beef in feedlots is probably at a record high, but about the same in proportion to population as it was two years ago.

The longer feeding period may lead to greater average slaughter weights and to a record tonnage of beef this winter. While feedlots may contain a record tonnage of beef, its marketing may be spread over a longer time than in past years. Perhaps most important, the supply of beef may be less than it was two years ago, though probably not less than in this past year.

SUPPLY OF NONFED BEEF TO CONTINUE SMALL. Less than half of the total supply of beef is fed beef. The rest is beef that is not fed for fattening before slaughter. According to USDA estimates, 55 per cent of the beef in 1956 was nonfed beef. The nonfed cattle that were slaughtered included 28 per cent of all heifers, 46 per cent of all steers and 98 per cent of all cows. Slaughter of such cattle, especially cows, will continue to be small during the coming winter and spring.

The scarcity of low-grade beef will hold a strong foundation under the market for fed cattle. This can prevent a drastic slide in prices of fed cattle, but it does not guarantee any price premium for the high-grading fat cattle. L. H. Simerl, Department of Agricultural Economics

Solid and liquid mixed fertilizers have shown about the same results in tests at midwest agricultural experiment stations.

Higher Income Awaits More Land, Capital

Shorn Lambs Gain Faster In Tests

URBANA—Shorn lambs gained about 50 per cent faster than unshorn lambs this summer at the University of Illinois Sheep Farm. Shorn lambs seemed to be more comfortable, alert and active than unshorn lambs in this research experiment, says U. S. Garrigus, head of the sheep division at the UI College of Agriculture.

Speaking to an annual Illinois Sheep Day audience here Friday, Garrigus pointed out that lambs often do not gain well during the summer months. Two-thirds of the replacement lambs in the University's purebred flock were shorn this summer to find out shearing's effect on them.

If ewe or ram lambs are to be used for breeding, summer shearing seems to offer the same advantage for them as for feeder lambs, Garrigus pointed out. Relative weight at breeding time has been shown in other research work to greatly influence the performance of ewes bred as lambs.

Of course, flies may bother lambs that are shorn too closely in the summer. And summer-shorn wool has a short staple and weighs less than wool shorn in the spring. However, the value of the wool will just about offset the cost of shearing and handling the lambs.

Another disadvantage is that shorn lambs in very short fleece do not look as good when offered for sale as do unshorn lambs.

Common Sense Fine Hunting Trip Companion

If you are one of the thousands who will join the ranks of game hunters during this hunting season, it will pay you to remember that sportsmanship and courtesy may save a life.

Most hunting accidents can be prevented if you'll take a generous measure of common sense along on your hunting trips, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

According to Illinois Rural Safety Council reports, three causes account for almost two-thirds of the accidents reported during the hunting season. These three are people getting into the line of fire, mistaking people for game and hunting with the safety catch off the gun.

For safer hunting, Hogsett lists the following 10 commandments:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Before taking a gun into your automobile, camp or home, be sure it is broken down or has the action open.
3. Always be sure the barrel and action are free of obstructions.
4. Always carry a gun so that you can control direction of the muzzle.
5. Be sure of the target before you pull the trigger.
6. Don't point a gun at anything you don't want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended without unloading it.
8. Don't climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
9. Don't shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Never try to mix alcohol and gunpowder.

Competition For Items

Farmers will also face rising prices for the things they buy because many of these items are also demanded by non-farm industry.

Financing methods for farm assets need to be changed, Baker and Halcrow point out. Compared with the methods by which modern corporations are financed, farm credit methods do not provide adequate capital necessary to finance a fully modern agriculture, although progress is being made.

Longer Mortgages?

For example, if funds are limited, the economists question whether farm mortgages should be paid off in 20 to 25 years or whether part of the loaned capital funds should preferably remain permanently invested in the farm. The money now used to pay off mortgages could then be used to expand the farm business.

This problem is becoming more important because land and buildings have become a greater part of total farm investment. And land values have increased more than buildings.

In the years ahead, Halcrow and Baker are sure that farmers will find it more and more important to meet rising capital requirements while still meeting the demands of a rising standard of living.

What You May Expect

Sixty-five pound lambs that were fed this ration at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station gained 0.44 pound a head daily and reached choice market grade weighing about 100 pounds in about 80 days. The feed required for each 100 pounds of lamb gain was very low—340 pounds of soybean oil meal and 316 pounds of hay. If your lambs gain as efficiently and if you have $1.00 corn and $20.00 hay, pay $80.00 a ton for soybean oil meal and charge 25c a hundred for grinding and mixing, you can make 100 pounds of gain for about $12.35. Maybe you can sell that gain for $20.00 a hundred.

Pelleting Brings Better Results

Better still, take the same ration and pellet it. By pelletizing the feed, you should be able to get choice 100 pound lambs in 60 to 65 days rather than 80 days and at a feed cost of $11.10 for each 100 pounds of gain. (Cost includes charge for grinding and mixing.) At least that is what Dixon Springs lambs did on the pelleted ration. In making 100 pounds of gain, lambs on the pelleted ration ate 305 pounds of corn, 31 pounds of soybean oil meal and 284 pounds of hay.

Costs For Pelletizing

Not counting the extra days in the feedlot and the slightly lower dressing percentage for the meal-fed lambs, but counting only the saving in feed, the pellet-fed lambs made the Station enough more money to allow a charge of $6.60 a ton for pelletizing.

Gopher Farmers Like New Hybrids, Modern Pickers, Corn Driers

A short trip into southeastern Minnesota last week proved interesting. But it also pointed toward some signs that cannot be relished by farmers of Central Illinois.

Minnesota is now raising a lot of corn, and quite a few soybeans. And the farmers are enjoying every minute of it.

Six years ago Eisenhower and Stevenson, the two candidates for president, made their major farm speeches at Kasson, Minn. At that time most of the land was devoted to pasture for milk cows, plus some corn for silage, quite a little oats, barley and rye, some flax for seed and here and there a tiny patch of soybeans.

The people of Kasson think so much of the idea that both candidates spoke on agriculture there that they are putting up a roadside marker to commemorate the event. But they are rather hazy as to just why they are doing it.

The picture is altogether changed now. The pastures have dwindled in size, there's no flax, barley or rye, and no spring wheat. But there are acres and acres of corn—some of mighty good, over 100 bushels per acre, and some in the 30-bushel class—and quite a few soybeans.

Some of the residents say the switch has come about because: 1. The new varieties of corn and soybeans developed for the area have proved extremely good.

2. Government price supports and storage rates guarantee a profit.

Just Something New!

But some of the non-farmers in the area contend, "The boys have just learned how to raise corn. It's new and different to them; it's new, and they love it."

Nobody in the area is complaining with corn acreage allotments and all of them will vote against allotments in the Nov. 25 election, they say.

Under the formula of the government-guaranteed price of 90¢ of the selling price of the three previous years, one of them said, "that guarantees us at least a dollar a bushel. How can we lose?"

Lamb Ration

Whether you are an experienced lamb feeder or not, here is a ration that will give good results. Use self-feeders and fill them the first week with a mixture of 45 parts (by weight) of ground shelled corn, 5 parts of soybean oil meal and 50 parts of ground alfalfa. This is a safe ration, bulky enough to prevent any hazard of overeating. For the rest of the feeding period, feed 50 parts of ground shelled corn, 5 parts of soybean oil meal and 45 parts of ground alfalfa.

Editorial Comment

Our Voting Recommendations

Transcending all other issues and races in importance is the Blue Ballot proposition to amend the Judicial Article of the state constitution. So first of all, we strongly urge every citizen interested in improving the administration of justice to vote "Yes" on the Judicial Amendment.

The second proposition on the Blue Ballot is to change the constitutional prohibition against successive terms by sheriffs and county treasurers. We favor this proposal also so that the voters, if they choose to do so, may retain in office experienced men.

Locally one of the very important separate ballots will determine whether the Oaklawn TB Sanitarium is to be maintained. This institution has served, and is serving a vital health need. The proposition does not call for the imposition of any new or additional tax but merely authorizes the continuance of the present county levy for the sanitarium.

We have also endorsed the state bond issue proposal under which $248,000,000 would be borrowed for the construction of buildings at the state's institutions of higher education and at the state welfare institutions, including the Jacksonville State Hospital and the School for the Deaf.

The Banking Act Amendments, concerning which there is general agreement, are also deserving of support. This proposition will be found on the general ballot.

No major state offices are at stake this year except State Treasurer and Superintendent of Public Instruction.

We have no hesitancy in recommending for State Treasurer Warren E. Wright, a native of Murrayville and former resident of Jacksonville. Wright has proved by two terms in this office that he is capable of handling the job. He has been commended, particularly by the Chicago Daily News which first exposed the Hodge scandal, for his help in tracking down those frauds against the state.

We also endorse Gerald W. Smith for Superintendent of Public Instruction. He has the background of school administrative experience and training which should well qualify him for office.

For the very important legislative office of Representative in Congress we urge the election of Mrs. Sid Simpson of Carrollton. The tragic, sudden death of her distinguished husband just a week ago was a real loss to this district and to the nation. Mrs. Simpson bravely agreed to carry on and she can be expected to represent the voters of this area in Congress as truly as her husband did.

For state representative it is once again our privilege to endorse the veteran Morgan County legislator, Hugh Green. No man knows better the workings of the General Assembly and few have compiled better voting records over the years.

In keeping with our established policy we make no recommendations for county offices. Both parties have full slates of qualified candidates in the field. These candidates are deserving of a large turnout at the polls next Tuesday, November 4.

So, regardless of your selection, be sure to vote!

Living, Growing Language

It develops that a certain dictionary publishing firm has a big staff with a lot of electronic gadgets keeping track of how people use words.

Every day these workers come down to the office and pour over current printed material, punching cards on whether it's being spelled "ie" or "ei." If a variation appears enough times the dictionary is changed.

Now this seems something like college freshmen peeking at each other's papers while taking an exam. Or two guys who have been lucky all their lives to have knife-fork-spoon at their places covertly watching each other at a banquet to see which piece of silver to use on the kumquats.

If the first grade gets hold of this counterspying it will be able to justify its spelling of rat as "ratt" even more eloquently than it does right now. And this is to say nothing of secretaries.

But at that, on the way to the dictionary to look up the word "squamous" it is a rather heady feeling to know that at IBM machine somewhere is going to jiggle when we spell it "squamus."

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why is television largely a man's world?

There can be no doubt that it is. Take a look at the girls who star in today's TV shows. A paltry number compared with the male stars.

Let's see—there are Dinah

Shore, Loretta Young, Gale Storm

Ann Sothern, Donna Reed, Pat shows now being filmed in Hol-

stars.

How come? I asked Herb Gor-

"It's not that we're antiwom-

"Far from it. The fact is that shows about women are virtually impossible to sell. Except for a few comedies and singers, nearly all the TV stars are male.

"The advertising agencies just won't give you any encouragement on a show centered around a woman. We've had several ideas here for shows for female stars.

There was one about a flight nurse. We had long talks with Barbara Stanwyck about forming a show. We almost made a pilot of the Craig Rice stories, which would have been great for a star like Betty Hutton.

"But in each case, we got no encouragement. So we stuck to the men."

Is it because men have more facets of personality that can prove interesting from week to week?

"Possibly," Gordon said. "Then again, you can do much more with a man. He can go anywhere, get in all kinds of violent situations

Women are more limited. And they are more subject to criticism. I've heard women and even children say they won't watch an actress because they don't like the clothes she wears or the way

she does her hair."

If you see a friend wearing a new dress, don't mention that you know someone who has one just like it, or that you happened to try on the identical dress but didn't

At least, she does so far as her friends and acquaintances are concerned.

It's Not Impossible to Make Charming First Impression

Have you ever met a woman for the first time, spoken to her, and then described her to a friend as "charming"?
How does a woman make a charming first impression?
She does it by the warmth and friendliness of her manner when she meets a stranger.
She does it by showing genuine interest in the other person.
She does it by listening attentively when the other person talks, and responding in such a way that it is apparent she is a good and appreciative audience.
She does it by asking questions that show a lively interest in the other person and by avoiding the kind of questions that might seem prying or snobbish or too personal.
She does it by being so at ease herself she doesn't have to strive to make a good impression or doesn't say just the obvious or commonplace things.
She makes a charming first impression with a pleasant voice, eyes that smile, a manner that is relaxed, instead of tense and nervous.
She charms by not trying to impress others, but by being willing to let them make the impression.
And, of course, she isn't too hurried or rushed or concerned with her own affairs not to have time to be gracious.
In these days when most women rush around trying to do too much, it is a real pleasure to meet a woman who still takes time to be charming, who can forget herself and her affairs long enough to give another human being her complete attention.

This is right and normal, politically speaking. If people blame the "ins" when things go wrong, the "ins" are entitled to claim credit when affairs right themselves.
The fact is however that politicians, policies and panaceas seem to have had little to do with either causing or curing the business slump. As the economic data accumulate, the 1957-58 recession looks more and more like a very ordinary swing and backsliding of the economic pendulum.
Far from being an unprecedented or rushing rebound, as some have described it, the recovery is a little behind schedule by comparison with the upturns from the earlier postwar slumps.
It has left a troublesome residue of unemployed, 4,100,000 of them, about 1½ million more than a year ago. Unemployment never improves as rapidly as sales, output and total incomes.
But there is grist for the GOP speechmakers even here. It appears that this month will see industry absorb another 500,000 or so of the idle, roughly matching last month's good gain.
The official job report won't be ready before next Thursday or Friday, but there's every reason to expect that the administration will find a way to break the bad news somehow before election day — probably in somebody's campaign speech this weekend.
That's what happened just before election day in 1954, in an almost identical recovery situation. Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell gave the news to reporters, after the Census Bureau's computers worked overtime to speed the tally.
Some of Weeks' aides protested when a newspaper accused him of "leaking the news prematurely" for political purposes. Weeks just shrugged when someone showed him the criticism. "Well, we did, didn't we?" he chuckled.
Actually there are recent indications that rehiring will be about as rapid as it was after the 1953-54 and 1948-49 recessions, and possibly faster. But then, as Democrats point out, employment went down farther and faster too.

Factory hours of work already are almost back to the standard 40, which means that future gains in output will have to be accomplished by hiring men instead of just restoring part-time workers to full schedules.
Other barometers of recovery aren't quite up to pattern. Although the national production rate since spring has regained three-fourths of the ground lost in the previous six months, in the two previous recessions it had climbed back all the way by this time.

The total incomes of Americans didn't sag badly, thanks largely to unemployment compensation and other built-in offers. It has recovered a little faster than in 1949, not as rapidly as in 1954.
The recovery of retail sales is behind that in both the earlier recessions, after discounting for price advances. Last month sales stood at 96 per cent of the pre-recession peak. At the corresponding point in the 1954 recovery they were 106 per cent and in the 1949 upturn almost 110 per cent.

New orders at factories, while increasing as rapidly as they did in 1949, are behind 1954. Housing starts are a strong upward force but are less buoyant than in the other postwar recoveries.
The pattern strongly suggests that what President Eisenhower calls the "strong, sensible, constructive" policies of the administration didn't have much to do with the recovery; and by the same token, that things would not have been much farther advanced if some of it costlier but slow-acting "emergency" spending proposals of some Democrats in Congress had been adopted.

We are not necessarily the hippy amalgam of Beefeaters, kilned Highlanders, Stratford-on-Avon and Yorkshire pudding which even our propaganda . . . usually makes us out to be. Industrial Britain is not dead. The lion can still think, whatever they may do to his tail.

as this one.

Choice Is Often One of Duty

To Oldster or Family Peace

By MARIE DAERR

Here are two sides of the three-generations-in-one house picture, supplied by readers:
"Grandpa J., my husband's stepfather, has been living with us for two years," Mrs. H. D. wrote. "I'm sorry to say that tension grows all the time."
"Grandpa pays $15 week for room, board and free run of the house all day. Accordingly, he thinks he must dominate our home."
"His personal habits and eating habits are so untidy the children refuse to sit at the table with him. He is the only one fortunate enough to have a strictly private room in our house. The rest of us all share rooms."

"Yet Grandpa never uses his own room except to sleep. He just sits and stares or broods in the front room until late at night."
"I feel that we as a family are entitled to a little privacy and home life without his presence. Do you think it would be asking too much to have him spend evenings in his own room? He has a radio and all the comforts there."

"This would give us a chance to feel we are a family again. I hate to suggest that my husband send him away, as no one else among his many relatives cares to have him. He is eligible for a lodge home, but he doesn't want to go there, because he thinks he wouldn't have enough freedom."
"He has our entire house to himself all day long. All I ask is that we have it evenings. Hope to hear from someone who has had a similar problem and who may have found a solution."

Mrs. J. V., another reader, has different ideas:
"Years ago, the family unit was a close-knit one," she wrote.
"Many an older person was respected, wanted and cared for. Today the children's first thought is to 'put away' the very people who were responsible for their lives and success."

"Has it ever occurred to these whippersnappers that, if they live long enough, they, too, may one day be in the same boat—maybe even up against a worse situation?"
"Too much emphasis is placed on the rights of youngsters and not enough on the God-given command to honor one's parents."

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

Putting First Things First

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

A strange aspect of the religious world today is the immensity of the interest in the "last things."
—what's going to happen, the millennium, etc. This in contrast to the lack of a plain, simple, constant challenge to a world so inferred with ungodly ambition, lust and abuse of power, violence and hatred.

Again, contrast it with the teachings of Jesus: the supreme importance of the commandments of love, the emphasis on true worths and values and the insistence upon the ideal of humility and service as the true standard of greatness.

This teaching of Jesus was not that of a schoolmaster instructing others by word only. He manifested it by example as well as words.
He washed the disciples' feet as an object lesson in humility, and in various ways ministered to others in acts of service. Moreover, He based His teaching upon the sure foundation of God's love and fatherhood.

His teaching was simply that men, created in the image and likeness of God, should be godlike in their characters and in their relationships with one another.
It is all recorded in the four Gospels. To make the teaching effective it is enforced by parables —the parable of the Publican and the Pharisee, the Good Samaritan, the Unjust Steward, the Pearl of Great Price and the Lost Piece of Silver.

There is the great Parable of the Prodigal Son, with its message of forgiveness and love, and its linking of God's fatherhood with man's.

It is all so plain and simple, yet so immense and wonderful, so deep and comprehensive, that it is amazing that it should ever become overclouded by notions of official authority and theological speculations.

The Old Y, Elks Club Disappears

THE VIEW from the Journal
Courier window, looking south, is different these days. The shell of the Elks club, which had its interior burned out on the morning of March 28, 1958, is almost gone.

The view above shows how it looked on Aug. 28, the day before the Ed Flynn Construction company began its demolition.

The photo at the right shows the same building as it looked a half-century ago, when it was acclaimed "the best Y.M.C.A. building in the state, excepting Chicago."

The main building, the right two-thirds of the picture from the right, was dedicated in 1881. It was a 60'x60' brick structure that cost $14,000 furnished. It housed the Y.M.C.A. with its important recreation program which featured the best lyceum programs and "the public library and its free reading room."

The section to the east was built in 1885.
The Elks bought the building in 1918, back when they had their headquarters in the second and third floor of Myers Bros. building on the northwest corner of the square. The third floor disappeared 11 years ago.

The Elks moved over to the revamped Y building with a grand opening on Jan. 1, 1920. The club spent thousands of dollars through the years converting the old building into a fine edifice.

This photo, taken Tuesday, shows the front of the old structure as it was being attacked by a 3,000 pound steel ball zipping from a 70 foot boom owned by the Caldwell Engineering Co. of Jacksonville.

The resulting debris is being hauled to fill in the sites of the new Hillcrest Trailer Court and the proposed Walker Motor Co. building, both on West Morton avenue.

Flynn, the wrecker, reports he found several unusual items in the old building that was erected 77 years ago. For example, he found quite a few 3" x 10" sills, 27 feet long, of white pine.

Late Friday afternoon one of the bulldozers uncovered another curio that had been tucked away in the basement: a swastika flag of the Heil Hitler era that probably had been brought back by an ETO serviceman.

Bluffs Teenager Feted By Friends On 16th Birthday

BLUFFS — Miss Judy Orchard was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when a group of friends gathered at the home of Sue Bridgman, who had planned the party, to help Judy celebrate her 16th birthday.

Sue was to spend the night with Judy but both girls were called to the Bridgman home in the evening after the group had gathered.

Bunco was played with high prize going to Barbara Blake and low to Robert (Butch) Green.
Judy received a lovely gift from the group.

Those enjoying the evening were Lynn Evans, Clifford Hoots, Janet Hullinger, Ronnie Hoots, Bonnie Mains, Henry Likes, Gene and Judy Martin, David Sturgeon, Barbara Blake, Barbara Swisher, Kenny Carpenter, Robert Green and the guest of honor and the hostess. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments in keeping with the season were served buffet style.

How To Be A Weatherman

By Joe Smith

Temperature

Our air or atmosphere about us consists mostly of a mixture of oxygen and nitrogen; together they make up 99% of all the gases present. Also, nearer the earth one will find varying amounts of water vapor, and without water vapor we could not have rain etc.

The daily temperature and precipitation (rainfall or snow) very largely determines our weather or climate. Humidity (moisture) and clouds are, of course, a part of these. We can sum up (in a general manner) the variety of weather conditions over a long period of time for any given area, and call this its CLIMATE.

An area's latitude, winds, elevations, amount of local land and water, ocean currents, duration of sunlight, the presence of long lasting "High" and "Low" pressure centers, and storms all act as controls on its weather.

The sun's heat (some 10,000° F.) is sent via short waves to the earth traveling at a rate of 186,000 miles-per-second! The amount of such solar radiation that actually strikes the earth is, however, quite small when compared to the total amount cast off of the sun by a fusion type process. (The "H" bomb can very briefly produce nearly as much heat, also by fusion, as does the sun.)

Why Summer Is Warm

Our summers are made warmer by more nearly vertical sun rays; on the other hand, the winter's more slanted rays are less warming. Generally speaking, the higher the sun and the longer the days the higher the temperature.

Did you ever notice, however, the land or soil heats and cools off rather rapidly; yet lakes, streams, etc. are slow at warming up each spring and slow at cooling each fall? This will directly effect the weather or climate of a "landlocked" or "water-surrounded" area. The former have wider, more sharp daily and seasonal temperature "Highs and Lows"; the latter more moderate changes.

Cooler Higher Up

We all know that the higher up we go the colder it gets; yet most of the sun's radiated heat is absorbed in the upper atmosphere, and very little actually reaches the lower layers. If we were in a desert some night we would feel evidence of the air absorbing the earth's daytime collected heat. The clear, dry sky allows the heat to escape readily cooling the nights.

We further might know that cool air tends to fall while warmer air rises. For each 1,000 feet of ascent it will cool about 5° F.

We Make Readings

Our daily range of temperature is for a 24 hour period; still for our purposes we will need only one or two daily readings at say 7 A.M. and 6 P.M.

For our temperature readings we might mount three dime store thermometers side by side on a mounting board. For our daily readings we would note the reading of each, add these together, and divide by 3. This average reading then we would record. Mount your thermometers outdoors, but in the shade.

Next: AIR PRESSURE.

We'll Go Roaming

By Melma Huckleby Evert

Huckle and Jeannie were both fast asleep before Mother had finished singing. So Grandmother and Granddaddy and Mother tiptoed softly out of their room.

"They will be ready to go roaming tomorrow," whispered Granddaddy, "before they start on that long trip to Chicago."

Mother put her arm about Grandmother, and an arm about Granddaddy. "Why can't you both come to Chicago with us?" she begged. Granddaddy's eyes twinkled at Grandmother. Grandmother smiled in Grandmother's way at Granddaddy.

"What a surprise this will be for Huckle and Jeannie." Mother said, all smiles.

"Goodnight!" "Goodnight!" "Goodnight!"

The End.

Word Picture Of Pope John XXIII—

Similarities, Differences Between Popes

Editor's Note—In the first of three vivid word pictures of Pope John XXIII by A. P.'s veteran chief Vatican correspondent, Frank Brutto, tells some of the similarities and differences between the new pontiff and his predecessor Pope Pius XII and the steps by which John XXIII reached the pontifical throne.

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY (AP)—Thousands in the Vatican square roared approval when Pope John XXIII stepped to the balcony of St. Peter's to give his first blessing to the city of Rome and the world.

In the narrow streets of Sotto il Monte—which means Under the Mountain—children danced and shouted.
"Long life to Roncalli! Long live the Pope!"
For it was in this little Italian Alpine town of 1,800 people that the 26th pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church was born Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli nearly 77 years ago. He was the child of a poor farmer—about as different as could be from the noble Roman family that gave birth to his predecessor, Eusebio Pacelli, the late Pope Pius XII.
The Roncallis were patricians, but the Roncallis humble countryfolk. Their now most famous son has sometimes been called a countryman. It is a quality that has endeared him to many.

The quasi-joviality common to his native Bergamo province more than anything else immediately marks the difference between Pope John and his predecessor, the aristocratic Roman, who for 15 years guided the church through an extremely difficult war and postwar period.

Few men looked less alike: Pius, slender, frail, ascetic; John, a 210-pounder with a robustness belying his years, a heritage of his peasant background.

But there are many similarities: dedication to the church from early life, intimate experience with Vatican administration years in the church's diplomatic service, association with foreign government heads as a papal ambassador, deep awareness of communism's threat to Catholicism, staunch defenders of moralism, devotion to study, research and scholarship.

The new Pope was one of twelve children, his father a sharecropper. In 1938, when he became patriarch of Venice, he told his parishioners: "I was born of poor parents. Providence took me from my native hamlet and led me to the church's mission."

travel the roads of the world from east to west, putting me in contact with the most serious social and political problems.

"Now my long experience has led me to Venice. Don't look at your patriarch as a politician and diplomat, but look at him as the servant of God."

Providence may have taken a hand in the career of the prelate, but his own good talents had long been observed.

Young Angelo was only 11 when he entered the diocesan seminary at Bergamo. Twelve years later, on Aug. 19, 1904, he was ordained a priest in Rome.

The qualifications of the young priest had already been noted by his bishop, Msgr. Radini-Tedeschi. Young Roncalli became the prelate's personal secretary in 1905. He held the post until the bishop died in 1914, gaining an early knowledge of the administrative structure of the church.

In World War I, Roncalli entered service as a sergeant. When it ended, he was an army chaplain. In 1921 Pope Benedict XV summoned him to Rome for the important assignment of reorganizing the Congregation for Propagation of the Faith, which directs

A year later, when Pius XI had succeeded Benedict, the new pontiff took an immediate interest in Roncalli's work. During the next four years he sent him on many missions to foreign centers. He was consecrated a bishop in 1925 and entered the Vatican's diplomatic service.

His first assignment was an apostolic visitor to Bulgaria. He remained there until 1934 and was then transferred to Turkey as vicar.

Msgr. Roncalli remained in the Balkans until the early years of World War II, then was named apostolic nuncio to Liberia. Paris. On New Year's Day, 1945, he presented his credentials to Gen. Charles de Gaulle, then head of the French provisional government.

Msgr. Roncalli remained in France eight years, until Pius XII made him a cardinal and ordered him to Venice. That ended a diplomatic career that had taken him to every country in Europe and to many in the Middle East from Egypt to Turkey. During that period he had mastered Turkish, Greek, Bulgarian and French and become acquainted with Russian.

Pope John XXIII Faces Many Problems As He Starts Reign

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII starts his reign at a time of relative peace, but he faces problems just as burdensome as those of his predecessor, who ruled through hot and cold world war.

To a large extent they are the same problems that Pope Pius XII carried for 19 years. Foremost among them:

1. The Roman Catholic Church's continuing struggle against atheistic communism.

2. The church's efforts in behalf of social improvements and equitable distribution of the world's riches.

3. The administration of the church itself. Today, despite restrictions upon it by Communist-ruled nations, it is more powerful than at any time in its history and counts half a billion members, about a fifth of the world's population.

4. The church's constant and continuing efforts to bring back into the fold those who have left it, and to expand its spiritual dominion throughout the world.

5. The restoration of true peace, a problem to which Pius XII and his predecessor, Pius XI, devoted much attention.

To these problems the new Pope could add another more immediate one — the thinned ranks of the College of Cardinals, the church's high senate body. Its 53 members average 73 years of age. Many of them are bent and weighed with more than the 76 years that the Pope himself carries.

Pope John, it is generally believed, will lose no time in filling the ranks of the college of cardinals.

More than any other single act, the new Pope's attitude in the naming of new cardinals will indicate whether he plans to continue Pius XII's rather intensive efforts to stress the international aspects of the Roman Catholic Church. Some press comment already has referred to the new Pope as a "European" pope.

But while the Pope's experiences have been chiefly confined to Europe and the Middle East, his appeal must be worldwide.

In his first message to the world, delivered a day after his election, he appealed to the rulers of all nations to strive for peace. He had a special thought for those in Communist-dominated lands, where, he said, "the sacred rights of the church are rashly trod upon." And he invited a return to the church of all those who had separated from it.

He touched, too, on social rights. The human family, he said, does not want universal slaughter, but peace, "that peace is virtue in which the human family can live freely, flourish and prosper."

The new Pope has been a friend of some noted Socialists, among them Vincent Auriol, former President of France. When he was patriarch and cardinal archbishop of Venice, the Pope made known his belief that the priest should not be relegated to the sacristy. Because of this some have tended to consider him to be slightly left of center.

But in a pastoral letter of Aug. 12, 1956, he left no doubt that he brooked no traffic with communism. He said to Christian Democrats of Venice, who at the time were considering a "political opening to the left":

"It is dolorous for me to point out that there are Catholics who yet another time find themselves facing very grave doctrinal error, and a flagrant violation of Catholic discipline. The error is to participate and go hand-in-hand with an ideology, the Marxist, which is a negation of Christianity and whose applications can not be coupled with the presuppositions of Christ's Gospel."

"And don't come to tell us that this 'going - to-the-left' signifies more solicitude for economic reforms. The danger is in association with the deniers of God and the oppressors of human liberties with the hope of bringing about such reforms. That which is false in its premise is sadly ruinous in its applications."

Only one species of marsupial, the opossum, is found in North America.

Jacksonville Halts Bethalto; ISD B lanks Pittsfield, 25-0

Tigers Coast To Win Over Saukees For 6th Triumph Of Season

PITTSFIELD—The ISD Tigers showed an excellent defense and a sound running attack as they downed the Pittsfield Saukees here Friday night 25 to 0. The first quarter was played on even terms with neither team being able to sustain a scoring drive.

In the second period Bob Higdon got the Tigers started with a 10 yard gallop to paydirt. The play was set up by a fine run by A. C. Parish on a pitch out good for 22 yards. Cherry ran the PAT and Coach Jim Spink's boys were out from 7 to 0. The first half ended with the score remaining the same.

ISD kicked off to the Saukees to open the second half and the Tigers put up a stout defense that forced Pittsfield to punt on the first series of plays. In five plays the Tigers were in the end zone again with Cherry going in from the nine yard line. Fine runs by

Action in Jacksonville - Bethalto Contest

Crimsons Record 6th Shutout In Eight Starts In 27-0 Win

By Stan Spotts

Jacksonville High capitalized on two first quarter breaks Friday night and went on to claim a 27-0 victory over Bethalto in the first meeting between the two schools.

The Crimsons dominated the contest in both departments—offense and defense. JHS' defense was again superb as the shutout was the sixth in eight outings for the Kraushaarmen. The offensive punch more or less speaks for itself as Jacksonville racked up 358 yards rushing to Bethalto's 101. The Crimsons also showed the way in first downs, 11-9, and in penalties, 55-15.

The Jacks went to the air six times and connected on four for a total of 66 yards and one touchdown. Lloyd Hedlund's Eagles attempted 15 passes and hit on four for 34 yards through the air. Two of the aerials were intercepted by Jacksonville. Fumbles stymied what look like JHS drives in the first half as the Crimsons committed three and a total of four for the game. Bethalto only lost the ball once via the fumble.

Perhaps, Mike Hudson turned in his most impressive performance as a Crimson as he covered his linebacker chores like a blanket and on offense he ran like a demon. Game honors also go to ends John Sutphen and Jim Black, who did a tremendous job turning Bethalto's blockers in on offensive plays.

Every Crimson must receive some kind of recognition as they prevented Bethalto from getting inside Jacksonville's 30 yard line.

Another dangerous weapon Jacksonville had been lacking for four contests was the long touch-down run. The Crimsons got two of them in the second half to make up for the four-game slack. Quarterback Merritt Norvell, who was running from the left half-back spot, thrilled the crowd with a beautiful 61-yard scamper in the third period and then Mike Hudson came on in the final period to score 69 yards. It marked the first time since the Bearsdown game, when Norvell returned a punt 65 yards, that the Crimsons had been able to go over 30 yards for a TD. Last week, Norvell went 29 yards for a tally against Lanphier for the closest threat.

The victory extended Jacksonville's winning streak to three straight after the 13-13 tie with the Laurel International Nov. 11. Press agents at the airport will be most happy if he is nominated.

Friday Night Scores

Rushville 18 Mt. Sterling 6

RUSHVILLE—The Rockets celebrated homecoming here Friday night with a Midwest conference victory over Don Pilger's Brown County Hornets, 18-6.

Don Klitz was Rushville's whole show as the halfback accounted for all the Rocket touchdowns on runs of 1, 80, and 12 yards.

A fourth quarter pass from Tom Yockey to Kent Butler for 40 yards in the final minute accounted for Mt. Sterling's only TD.

Each club performed without the services of some of their regulars.

A Mt. Sterling center, John Snyder, was shaken up on a play and will remain over-night in a hospital for observation.

Score By Quarters:

Rushville ..... 12 0 0 6—18
Mt. Sterling ..... 0 0 0 6—6
Officials: Keating, Wherley, Van Euten.

Carrollton 45 Pleasant Hill 6

CARROLLTON—The Carrollton Hawks, with Ronnie Carter leading the way, romped over the winless Pleasant Hill Wolves in an Illinois Valley Conference game. The final score saw the Hawks out front 45 to 6 in the game played here Friday night. Ronnie Carter broke loose in the first period going 15 yards to paydirt and a six to nothing lead. Botrum followed this with a six point tally from the two yard line and a 12 to nothing first quarter lead.

In the second period Reif raced 64 yards to score and the PAT was missed. Carter then garnered his second TD of the night as he moved 11 yards to the end-zone and a 25 to 0 lead. Ballard added the PAT. Pleasant Hill picked up its only score of the night as QB Richards went over for six points.

Carter started the third frame by going over from the one foot line for the third of his four TD's of the evening. Rog Carter kicked the PAT. Robinson then tallied with a 24 yard dash and Rog Carter kicked his second conversion of the tilt. Ronnie Carter ended scoring in the game by racing 40 yards to paydirt and the final score saw the Hawks on top 45 to 6.

Roodhouse 47 Winchester 6

ROODHOUSE—The Railroaders ran roughshod over the Wildcats of Winchester here Friday night in an Illinois Valley game. Eddie Brown scampered 30 yards for Winchester in the first period and the Wildcats had a short lived 6 to 0 lead. Phil Hopkins started the scoring spree for Jack Jordan's Railroaders as he threw 25 yards to Jim Knox for the TD. Lyndell Winters plunged for the PAT.

Lyndell Winters then plunged six yards for a 14-6 lead and a Hopkins to Knox pass netted the PAT. In the second frame Dick Knox scooted 36 yards to paydirt. Hopkins plunged for the PAT. A six yard run by Winters added another six points to the Roodhouse total and Hopkins passed to Knox for the PAT.

Hopkins launched another aerial, this time to Joe Alaman, for a TD and a 24 to 6 lead. The play covered 56 yards, the PAT was missed. Lyndell Winters broke loose for the longest jaunt of the night as he raced 64 yards to the end zone, Mike Henry kicked the PAT.

In the final frame Dick Knox threw to brother Jim Knox on a pass play that covered 41 yards to the end-zone and the final TD of the night. The PAT was missed and the final score saw Roodhouse on top 47 to 6. Coach Jordan's charges have now tallied 307 points to the opposition's 24 in eight encounters this season.

out of bounds on their own 27 and the Crimsons had their second scoring break of the game. Two plays netted 12 yards before Bobby Watts cracked over from the 15 on a spread formation. The tally didn't count as JHS was guilty of illegal procedure. Halfback Gary Spangenberg covered the five-yard walk-off to put the Crimsons back on the 15 as the period ended.

The Crimsons had four first downs to Bethalto's none after 12 minutes of play.

Takes 1:21 To Score

Runs by Spangenberg and Norvell chewed up 11 yards to move the piskins to the four. Norvell then hit end Jim Black all by his lonesome in the end zone for the touchdown with 10:39 left before halftime.

Hudson missed his only conversion attempt of the game following this TD and the Crimsons had their 13-0 halftime margin.

Bethalto's big drive of the game came when Hudson's kickoff went out of bounds and the Eagles put the ball in play on their own forty.

The losers drove to JHS 33 yard line before fumbling. The Crimsons also fumbled two plays later but it resulted in no scoring damage.

Hudson intercepted a pass to give the Jacks possession with seconds left in the second quarter and a Norvell to Sutphen pass for long yardage put JHS on Bethalto's 30 just as the quarter ended.

3rd Quarter Delight

Mike Hudson's booming kickoff sailed into Bethalto's end zone to open the third quarter and the Eagles used three first downs to drive to Jacksonville's 39 yard line before the visitors were stopped and had to punt.

Jacksonville took over on its own 9. The attack bogged down after Watts picked up a first down. Sandwiched between a 15-yard penalty and a 15-yard loss on a running play, the Crimsons were able to march to their own 39 with fourth down coming up and three yards to go for the first down. Quarterback Dick Parlier gambled and handed off to Norvell, who skirted over his own right tackle and made his way to the sidelines.

On his merry waltz downfield, Norvell broke loose from five or six would-be tacklers and used several key blocks to dance 61 yards to paydirt. Hudson added his second point after touchdown and JHS led, 20-0, with 1:09 left in the third period.

Another Beauty

A Bethalto drive to Jacksonville's 30 following the kickoff came to an abrupt end when Norvell deflected a Bethalto pass and Bobby Watts intercepted to give JHS' offense the ball on its own 25. A six-yard pickup to the 31 set up JHS' second explosive TD of the second half.

On a quick opener up the middle, Hudson broke into the secondary and went 69 yards untouched with 6:15 left to play in the game. Mike capped his sterling performance by splitting the uprights on the PAT and Jacksonville had its 27-0 margin of victory. The output was the Crimsons' 23rd point of the season to the opponents' 20.

Some fine runs by Chauncey Whitaker and Rich Middendorf sparked Jacksonville's last but scoreless drive.

Score By Quarters:

Jacksonville ..... 7 6 7 1—27
Officials: Summers, Wood River; Shields and Cole, Greenfield.

Scoring touchdown—Jacksonville, Hudson (22 yards), Black (4 yard pass); Norvell (61 yards), Hudson (69 yards).

Scoring extra-points—Jacksonville—Hudson 3 (conversions).

Review Of Book By John Newton Baker

By TOM SKILES

Your Public Relations Are Showing . . . by John Newton Baker. (Twayne Publishers, 31 Union Square West, N. Y. C.) Mr. Baker is assistant to the president at MacMurray College.

The field of human relations has always been an inexact science.

It remains that way after reading John Newton Baker's book, "Your Public Relations Are Showing," but the approach to it may have been improved by the rules for human relationships that he analyzes.

He starts by organizing, illustrating, and presenting these rules in an effective and readable manner. More important, however, he applies these precepts in a very real way to many areas of public relations. This is because Baker believes that "good public relations is both an art and a business. It is the art of dealing effectively with people—the great common denominator of all relationships. It is the business of so organizing the details of your work that your best foot is always forward."

The author first describes good PR techniques: telling your story through advertising, bulletins, brochures, direct mail, correspondence, telephone, speeches, special events, and through the powerful media of press, radio, and television. He then outlines the ABC's of public relations for Chambers of Commerce, civic clubs, government, post offices, banks, the medical profession, public schools, higher education, and management.

Throughout these chapters, one recognizes the importance of skill in human relationships. The reader is also made aware of Florida Governor LeRoy Collins' quotation from Shakespeare in the book's foreword: "To Thine Own Self Be True." From honesty to oneself springs the basis for honesty and sincerity to others. Gov. Collins states in pointing out that adherence to this tenet is the great value of Baker's book.

Another major value of his book lies in his comprehensive approach, in demonstrating to the doctor, lawyer, merchant chief how they can improve their public relations. Other books have been comparatively specialized in their approach to industrial or college or other areas of PR. Few include the wide range of topics covered by Baker.

An important ingredient in this book is the manner in which Baker illustrates his points. This is when his background and experience come in handy, including his seven years as public relations director at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla.

The illustrations are not only apt, but frequently humorous and always readable. They are used with particular effectiveness in the final chapter of the 301-page book. It is entitled "101 Tested Techniques in Public Relations."

Here he suggests better PR practices for everyone from architects, barbers and bakers, to bus drivers, book dealers, and elevator operators. Many of these ideas are original with the author, while others are in use in single instances and could be adapted profitably by others in the same line of work. In effect, it is a "case study" approach to public relations problems.

"Your Public Relations Are Showing" includes much common sense that is organized, illustrated, and presented in a well-written, readable matter. It will stimulate your thinking. It may well give you ideas on which you can hitch-hike to solutions of your own. The book is well worth reading.

Patti Likes Is Homecoming Queen At Bluffs

BLUFFS — Although the Bluffs high school football team lost its Homecoming game to Arenzville 20-0 the evening's festivities were termed delightful.

The dance with music by Mason's orchestra was staged in the gym, beautifully decorated in keeping with the theme, "Harvest Moon."

At 11 o'clock the queen contestants, their attendants and escorts entered the gym, announced by Sandie Oakes, mistress of ceremonies.

The senior queen contestants, Patti Likes and Shirley Pahlmann, were escorted by Steven Bruce and Kenny Collison respectively. Sharon Kesterson was escorted by Audrey Gregory; Bonnie Mains by Henry Likes; Susan Bous by Jim Cox.

The crown bearer was Jerry Schmitz and Ruth Fargo carried the arm bouquet of white mums tied with blue. At the appointed time Virgil Coughlin, school superintendent, handed Sandie an envelope, in which was the identity of the queen, Patti Likes.

In the absence of last year's queen, Miss Vesta Comerford, Judy Brockhouse, president of the Student Council, placed the crown on Patti.

The girls wore formal for the ceremonies and had corsages of roses. Escorts had white carnation boutonnieres.

Your Democratic Candidate For County Judge

OF MORGAN COUNTY

BILL G. COLBURN

Bill Colburn is a lawyer who has never held a public office, and this is the first time he has ever been a candidate for office. He is a member of the Morgan County Bar Association, as well as the Illinois and American Bar Associations. He received both his undergraduate training and professional study at Northwestern University and graduated from the Northwestern University School of Law in January, 1953. He was licensed to practice law before the Illinois Supreme Court in May, 1953, at which time he enlisted in the United States Air Force and spent three years on active duty in the Judge Advocate General's Department, where he gained valuable experience as a summary court judge. Bill Colburn served one year overseas in Korea.

Upon release from active duty in 1956, Bill Colburn and his wife, the former Jane Stryker of Springfield, Illinois, chose Jacksonville for their home and are homeowners here. He was born and reared in Virginia, Illinois, in neighboring Cass County. He and his wife are church members.

The office of County Judge is a very important county office. The County Judge, of your county, presiding in County Court, has jurisdiction in civil cases where the amount involved in controversy does not exceed $2,000.00 and jurisdiction of criminal offenses and misdemeanors where the punishment for the crime involves confinement in jail of one year or less. The County Court has jurisdiction of all matters of probate such as settlement of estates of deceased persons and appointment of guardians and conservators. An important segment of the Court's time is spent in dealing with the problems of juvenile offenders.

"Since it is impossible for one man to meet each voter personally in Morgan County, I have taken this opportunity to introduce myself to you whom I have not had the pleasure of meeting before. I wish to thank you for taking the time to read this introduction, and I sincerely solicit your vote on November 4, 1958."

For SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

I am Oliver L. McIlrath, Democratic Candidate for the Office of County Superintendent of Schools of Morgan County, Illinois.

To this Office on Nov. 4, 1958, the Voters must elect an Official; and I desire to be that elected Official.

Qualifications: I have the qualifications required by the State Office of Public Instruction, in Springfield, Illinois. I hold a "State Life Supervisory Certificate," a Bachelor's and a Master's degree in Education; I also have many extra college and Graduate hours.

Experience: I have forty years of experience in educational services, having been an administrator in High Schools, Elementary, and in Consolidations. I have worked under Administrators, as well as with them, have been a teacher in elementary and in H.S.; have been District Director of "The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers," District No. 13, (which includes Morgan, Scott, Cass and Greene Counties), thus I have had first hand experience in Elementary and H.S., as well as with the P.T.A., and from that experience, have had an understanding of the problems, and public relations, also a sympathetic interest, which will stand me in good stead in working with the school public.

I have not had experience in the Office that I seek in budgeting and expending your tax money; but if given the opportunity, I promise to budget and expend such tax-money so that your "Dollar" will give "A DOLLAR'S WORTH OF SERVICE FOR A DOLLAR!"

I am of the opinion that it is wonderful for a "COMMITTEE" to want and endorse a "CANDIDATE," or a "SLATE" of Candidates, for there may be a very keen public interest in so doing; but it is not also a good thing, for the people to endorse by their vote, a Candidate?

The word "EFFICIENT" is used by many candidates. It is a good word. Let us define it. This is taken from the "DICTIONARY." EFFICIENCY means: Capacity to produce desired results, esp. a definite kind of work, by a calculated adjustment of means to an end; Efficiency means: The effective operation of a business, or performance of a business task within the minimum of waste effort.

Now are you satisfied with the efficiency? Has the means to an end been in your favor? What kind of efficiency do you desire? How much are you interested in paying for, and do you desire continuance of similar service?

If given the opportunity, I promise to make the desired results, in so far as I would have control, work for the general welfare of education.

My candidacy is being based on this platform:

- 1—Operate the Office business legally and with dispatch
- 2—To retain, maintain, and hold fast that which is good in the school program, and make recommendations as needs demand for progression
- 3—Cooperate with National, State, County, and Local (this is to include Illinois College, MacMurray, and Brown's Business College), Executives, Administrators, Boards of Education, Teachers, Parents, Pupils, Interested Citizens, The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and Organizations that desire official services
- 4—Make an "ALL-OUT-EFFORT" to award all available "Scholarships" to qualified, and/or needy students. If possible, allow none to lie idle
- 5—Offer courteous cooperation with all courthouse officials
- 6—Let the latch string hang out at the Office door, be available to render official service, and do daily good turns as the opportunities, and your needs may require
- 7—Be your humble servant, work for the general welfare of the public, aid you in helping to solve your school problems, serve honestly, and with integrity.

Personal:

Family: Wife, three boys and three daughters.

You might well ask this question: Is Oliver L. McIlrath interested in education? Well let's see:

My qualifications are listed above. Following is the story of the training of our children:

Olive Joy, Mrs. David Vanderhorst, Umatilla, Oregon, has a Bachelor's and a Master's Degree; Kenneth Lee, Stockton, Illinois, served in the Navy has a Bachelor's and a Master's Degree; Eileen, JHS graduate, has a Bachelor's Degree in Special Education, The Deaf and Hard of Hearing, and will receive her Master's Degree in the Summer of 1959; John, JHS graduate, just returned from the U.S. Army Service and enrolled as a Freshman at Southern, at Carbondale, Ill.; Bill, JHS graduate, is a student at the Univ. of Illinois, and took his Physical examination for the service Oct. 16, 1958; Alice is a JHS junior. Eileen is the wife of Dr. Charles L. Rhykerd, and their home is at Teachers College, Pa.

May I ask is that any proof of my wife's and my interest in education?

Organizations:

I am a member of the Elks; Masons, Zingbad Grotto; A.T.A.; Sr. Counselor of the United Commercial Travelers, (UCT) No. 182, in Jacksonville; Director and Treasurer of The Morgan County Health Improvement Association; Jacksonville Athenian Toastmasters Club, No. 174, and was a winner of the "DAL-MAE" Trophy; Woodson Community Men's Club; on the Executive Committee of the Woodson Boy Scout Troop, Health and Safety Chm. of The Honest Abe District of the Boy Scouts of America; Last June I attended a "Volunteer Course on Health and Safety at The Philmont Boy Scout Ranch, Cameron, New Mexico, at my own expense; aided in Polio, Red Cross, Community Chest, Civilian Defense, member of the Woodson Volunteer Fire Department; Elder in the Woodson Presbyterian Church, and Clerk of the Session; I have attended many Presbytery, and Synodical meetings, and was sent as a Commissioner by the Springfield Presbytery, to the 365th General Assembly in Minneapolis.

While teaching, I was affiliated with the NEA, IEA, and the local Educational organizations, was a delegate to the IEA, and attended the County Institute and the meeting recently held at Springfield by the IEA.

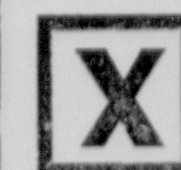

I am a veteran of WWI; member of WWI Barracks, President of The American War Dads, Chapter No. 28, Jacksonville, Illinois, War Dad State Americanism Chm., and Secretary of The Jacksonville Veterans and Auxiliary Service Clubs Foundation. This Organization has for its project, the equipping of an Emergency Room at Our Saviour's Hospital.

From the affiliation of these organizations, I feel that I have an interest in public welfare, and this practical training, should aid me rendering general welfare service.

Routt And JHS Pupils Will Attend CEC Student Conference

Miss Hazel Bothwell, faculty member at Illinois School for Deaf and member of the South Central CEC Chapter shows Routt students a plaque presented the local Council for Exceptional Children at a recent state meeting. Left to right, Mary Lou Langdon, Betty Watts, Peggy Towers, Miss Bothwell, Sue Flynn, Judy Schenz and Barbara Shanahan. These girls will attend both days of the Conference and other Routt pupils are welcome to attend the Sunday session.

Both Routt and Jacksonville High School have indicated their concern with the problems of Special Education by the representative groups which will take an active part in the two-day conference opening at Jonathan Turner Junior High School on Sunday, November 9. This conference is sponsored by the local Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children, assisted by Altrusa, Pilot, Kiwanis and Rotary.

Good Response

A good response is being made to the invitations sent to Central Illinois High Schools. Thus far, the following have sent the names of delegates: Springfield High School, Fritchham of Springfield, Auburn, Winchester, Virden, Meredosia, Franklin, Roodhouse, Pittsfield, as well as JHS and Routt.

It is interesting to note that a goodly percentage of those coming will be boys. This is in line with the local history of Special Education. In research, administrative positions, as well as in class room teaching, Illinois College and the local High Schools have sent many men graduates into all areas of Special Education.

In the Jacksonville area we have Ivan K. Garrison, Director of Special Education, Thomas K. Kline, Superintendent of the School for the Deaf, Leo J. Flood, Superintendent of the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School, all former students in local schools.

Local Chapter Leader

During the conference visitors may view the plaque presented to the Jacksonville Chapter of CEC as first place winner in the state for its project of last year—the International Fair held at Lincoln School last March. This plaque was presented at the recent state meeting of CEC at the Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis. Jacksonville was given first place with a total of 15 out of a possible 16 points. An outstanding feature of the Fair was its financial success which made possible the Scholarship Fund which is now being drawn upon by students attending the University of Illinois and MacMurray College in Special Education curricula.

It is hoped that the Scholarship Fund may add to the attraction of the Special Education Conference by giving practical encouragement to any interested students.

Open Session Sunday

While the Monday activities of the conference are open only to those registered in advance by their home High Schools, the program on Sunday is open to all interested persons in the community and will be entertaining as well as informative. Short talks will be given by several persons of national wide reputations in their field. The social hour in the evening will be of special interest to the young visitors. Square dancing will be featured and the Jacksonville Coca-Cola Bottling Co. is providing free cokes. As previously stated, Altrusa and Pilot will serve Sunday night supper. Kiwanis and Rotary will prepare box lunches for Monday noon. Jacksonville Chapter of CEC will supply Monday morning breakfast to be served by ISD girls, and various persons in the community are offered their homes for overnight lodging.

MORE CANDIDATES

THURO, N. S. — A record number of teacher-candidates has registered at the Provincial Normal College here. The total of 426, including 83 males, is an increase of 106 over last year.

Miss Mary Corlett, assistant director of Special Services in Jacksonville Public Schools and also a member of the local CEC chapter is advisor of the Special Education Club recently organized at Jacksonville High School. Its membes will attend the two day conference Nov. 9 and 10 being held in Jacksonville for high

See Shakespeare Play

On Saturday, 38 pupils of the senior high, with teachers and parental supervisors, went to St. Louis, to see the George Williams Players present "Julius Caesar," written by William Shakespeare. The group was sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. James A. Downard.

Mrs. Orville Griswold, Mrs. William Stotler, Miss Virginia Knisley, second grade teacher, Mrs. Mary Traver, language instructor and Paul Barnes, mathematics instructor, Lloyd C. Ploger and Robert Cole, drove the bus and station wagon.

Irma Shira Tucker, an instructor at East St. Louis High School has been the director of the George Williams Players.

The trip was arranged by Miss Deborah Hartogensis, local high school instructor, who last year participated in the production of "Julius Caesar."

Lions Benefit Blind

The Greenfield Lions Club is joining with other Illinois Lions clubs, in a state-wide campaign on the theme "Be Thankful You Can See" for the benefit of the Hadley School for the Blind, which includes the vocational school program for the blind.

Several metal containers have been placed in public buildings and stores and donations are solicited for support of this project. Leon E. Middleton is the local chairman for the drive.

There will be a Parks reunion Sunday, Nov. 2, at Pleasant Point church in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gallimore and children who have just returned from Europe. Mrs. Gallimore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Parks. All relatives and friends are invited to attend and a basket dinner will be served at noon.

THE STORY: Katherine has started to hint at the dinner table to Aunt Millicent that her stepfather Paul murdered her mother. Paul is at the table, listening on.

XI
She turned back to Aunt Millicent and said, "How do you know that Mother just happened to drown? She was a good swimmer!" It was desperately urgent that she should make her understand that it was at least possible that her mother had been murdered.
"Darling, you mustn't think these things. She must have gotten an attack of cramps, and—"
The muscles in Katherine's stomach were tense, constricted. She had an instant of thinking that she couldn't breathe, that her heart would stop beating, and then she blurted out helplessly, "But it wasn't just an accident!"
"Oh, honestly, darling!"
"It's true, I know it's true."
"All right," said Aunt Millicent. The harder look had come back around her mouth. "Who do you think killed her?"
Katherine hesitated for a second; and then, without looking around over her shoulder, she said in a choked voice, "Paul."
"But that's perfectly ridiculous. I won't let you go on saying things like that."
"I don't care," said Katherine stubbornly. "I know."
"Darling, listen to me. Paul loved your mother. She loved him. He was her husband. He'd be the last person on earth to want to hurt her."
Katherine didn't answer. She shook her head.
"Why, it's simply fantastic! You're a very naughty little girl, and if I were Paul I'd certainly be waiting for an apology right now."
"He was at home!"
"We all know that he went out

ARENZVILLE GIRL

SORORITY OFFICER AT MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

ARENZVILLE — Miss Helen Kolberer has been elected as vice president of a college chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, National Honorary Music Fraternity for Women.

Miss Kolberer is a junior, majoring in Music Education at Millikin University, Decatur. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kolberer of Arenzville.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Aunt Millicent smiled a hard, superior, adult smile down the table at Paul. She said to Katherine, her voice evened than it had been. "Did you tear this page out of Paul's book?"

"Yes, but—"
"And what have you done with it? These are terrible accusations. You can't say things like this unless you can prove them."
"I can prove it. But I haven't got the paper."
"Then where is it?"
"Paul has it. I left it down in the beachhouse this morning, and he got it then."
Paul said, "Why don't you ask her what she was doing in my beachhouse, anyway?"
"I was looking for the other page—the one he must have burned. I thought it might be in his clothes somewhere. But it wasn't." She felt, hideously, that the two of them were closing in on her. None of this was going the way she had expected it to. She made a valiant effort, and said quickly, dragging the train of thought back where it was supposed to be. "But he's got the paper. And it proves that he was there when Mother was drowned."

Aunt Millicent gave Paul that half-sympathetic, half-apologetic smile. "That's something that's perfectly easy to check. I should think, Paul!"

He put his hand in his pocket and began unloading the contents onto the table. He brought out his billfold. Aunt Millicent picked it up, opened it, and started going through it. Katherine could see at a glance that the paper was not in it.
She said, "Maybe it's in one of his other pockets."
But he had already begun to pull his pockets inside out. All their contents still lay on the table. There was nothing in his trouser pockets except grains of tobacco, lint, a broken match, nothing in the hip pocket: nothing in the pocket of his shirt.
Aunt Millicent was saying, "I think we've heard enough about this."
